One Man's Opinion

By CARL BRIGGS

Rat race is not a very nice description for our periodical democratic ritual, but there are similarities and everyone seems to agree they'll be glad when it's all over. Election time is America at its worst and best, all mixed up together. It's a great system, as purely democratic as anything that remains of the original concept that began nearly 200 years ago.

Everything else has been bastardized to a greater or lesser extent, but so far they haven't tampered appreciably with the electoral machinery.

As far as the current campaign is concerned, it's all pretty tiresome and I would imagine most decisions on men and issues were made a long time ago ——probably the day after the primary. Yet, it's important to see these things through to the end, and each vote will be as meaningful next Tuesday as it was before all this mess began.

I have been asked a number of times if the Sun would endorse condidates this year. There are good arguments for doing this and I have seriously considered making recommendations. There are also good arguments against endorsing and I feel inclined, at least for this election, to go along with them.

I don't like blanket endorsements, whether it is a party endorsement or any other kind, and while newspaper recommendations don't always carry the "blanket" label, they are often suspected of it. What's more, I doubt if a recommendation from me is going to mean anything, except make me feel better, but is mighty tempting to be on record for the man you think is best, whether he wins or not.

It seems certain that Sun readers have already made up their minds. With the Los Angeles Times it's different. The Times sways millions, but then Southern Californians are certainly more swayable than mountain folks.

What I will recommend is this: Vote from the head, vote from the gut, and vote from the pocketbook. Never mind that guy you shook hands with one time. Nice fellow and all that, but a handshake will get you nothing. Any fool can shake hands. And never vote for your best friend. Take a hard look and determine for yourself using the above criteria who is best qualified to do the best job. Then vote for him.

These are the important things. You can vote for party affiliation if you want to, or lodge affiliation, or gasoline credit card affiliation, but it's the man in office and not his affiliation that is either going to get things done or simply bumble around and not get things done. The job makes the man, they say, and so it does, but what it makes him into depends entirely on what kind of capabilities he had when you sent him in.

Anyway, vote tough, vote honest, vote for keeps. Vote with judgement and integrity. Vote for the future. Vote close to home. Vote by the seat of your pants, because you have to feel these things. Then after its all over you and I together will keep a beady and perhaps bloodshot eye on the rascal we put into office and see to it that he performs.

It's a rat race all right, but it's OUR rat race and this time we have the whole bag of clothespins riding on the outcome.

Newspapers characteristically gaze with jaundiced eyes upon territorial claim-jumping, but the Sun is pleased to welcome a new periodical to the community – the Weekly Floristonian, published by seventh-graders Kathy Rusco and Connie Sligar.

I haven't seen it (how about putting us on your mailing list, Kathy and Connie?), but heartily applaud the effort. Be careful though, girls. Printers ink is a funny substance. Once it gets under a person's skin they are often hooked for good.

Best of luck to you both.

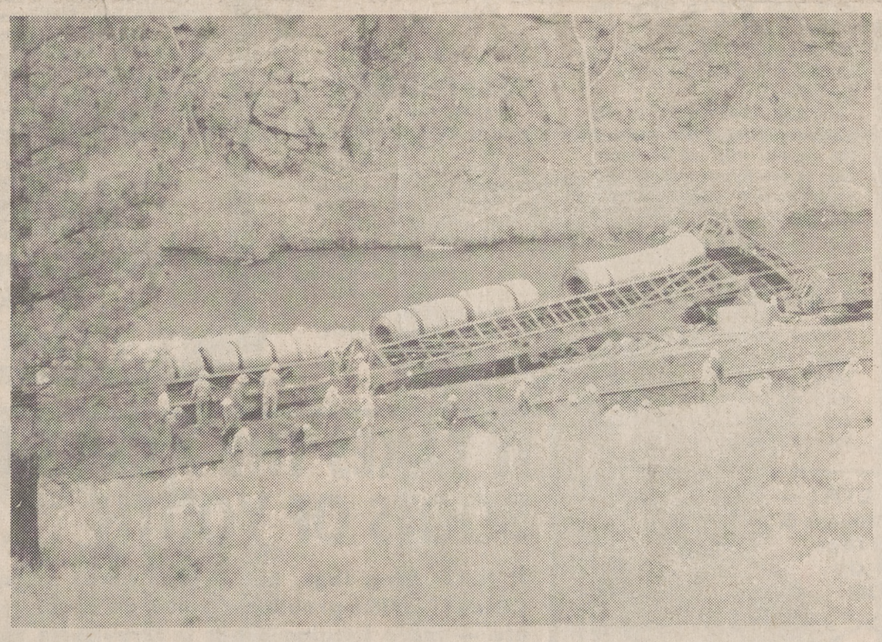
Ten-Car Train Derailment Tuesday Tears Up Track Near Boca Reservoir

TRUCKEE - Service was back to normal late Tuesday night on the Southern Pacific line, after an early morning derailment of 10 flat cars interrupted traffic about nine miles east of here.

No injuries were reported by a railroad spokesman and no damage estimate was available as of Wednesday morning.

The flat cars were westbound near Boca Reservoir. No cause of the derailing was available.

About 400 feet of track were torn up, according to the spokesman. Repair crews from Roseville and Sparks, Nev. had the line open about 8 p.m. Tuesday.



TRAIN WRECK – Ten cars were derailed and 400 feet of SP track torn up Tuesday in a train derailment near Boca Resevoir; no injuries were reported, but the main line in Truckee River Canyon was blocked for several hours before being cleared and repaired Tuesday night.

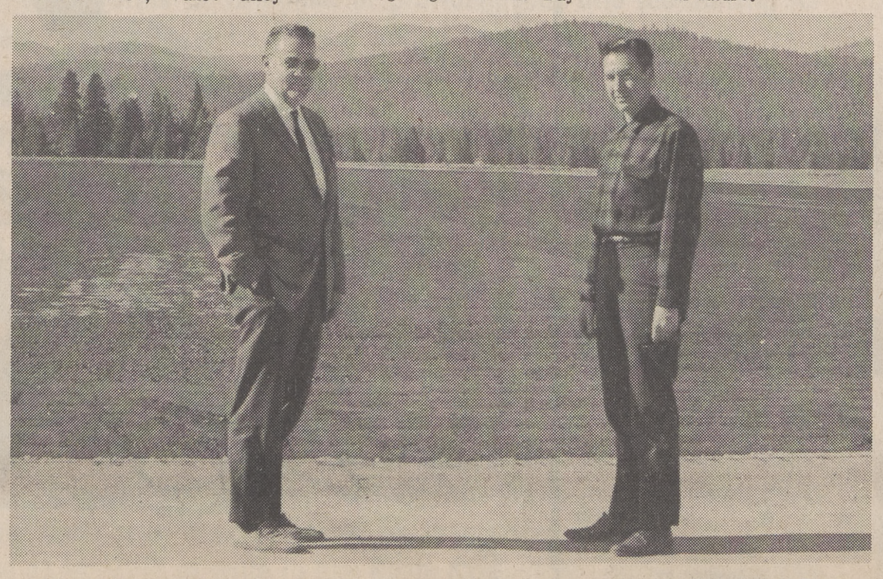
Scheduled Airline Service For Truckee

Scheduled airline service comes to the Truckee-Tahoe Airport beginning Nov. 15.

Announcement came from Zeph Rose, president of the Truckee Tahoe Airport District. He said the "commuter service between Reno, Truckee-Tahoe, Tahoe Valley Airport at the South Shore and Sacramento came after a year's negotiations with Dr. Alvin Marks, president of Skymark Airlines.

"From Sacramento, the schedules provide for interconnecting flights to the Bay Area and the valley cities, said Rose.

Rose said the scheduling of Skymark is only the first step in bringing air transportation to the Truckee-Tahoe area. Plans are now in progress to bring a second carrier into the airport in the near future.



PAVING GOING DOWN – Inspecting the new paved area under construction this week at Truckee-Tahoe Airport are Zeph Rose, right, chairman of the airport district board of directors, and Gordon Reddall, district manager; Rose is candidate for County Supervisor in Truckee. Scheduled airline service commences November 15. Sun Photo

Voters Prepare For Big National Election

Nevada and Placer County voters will decide on a full selection of candidates ranging from President of the United States to directors of local districts, and nine separate measures including the controversial propositions 1-A and 9.

Local ballots include the names of Nixon and Agnew and Humphrey and Muskie for the highest offices in the land, and also the names of candidates in two other parties: the American Independent, with Wallace and the Peace and Freedom Party with no presidential candidate listed, but on Peggy Terry named as vice president.

For Senator there are three candidates; Max Rafferty, Alan Cranston, and Paul Jacobs on the Peace and Freedom ticket.

Facing veteran incumbent Congressman Harold T. (Bizz) Johnson in the second district is Republican Osmer E. Dunaway and American Independent candidate Paul J. Huft.

Stephen P. Teale, incumbent state senator, is opposed by Walter E. Regan, Republican, and Don Powell, American Independent.

Assemblyman Eugene Chappie goes against Democrat Adrian Jack Barker in California's big sixth district.

Locally, the fifth district supervisor's seat in Nevada County is wide open, with Zeph Rose and Willie Curran racing for the position formerly held by Henry Loehr who was defeated in the primary. In Placer County, two incumbents, Bill Briner and Frank J. Paoli, are opposing each other for a single supervisorial post. They are being challenged by a write-in candidate, Douglas Duff.

Two district elections are running concurrently with the general election, Tahoe Forest Hospital and Recreation and Park. Two seats are open on each board. Candidates for director of the hospital district are incumbent Bill Vail, Joe Aguera, Dr. E. O. Hendrickson, Ray Huston, and Dr. Robert Masters. Four candidates are seeking two seats on the board of directors of Truckee-Donner Recreation and Park District, incumbent Marigrey Fish, incumbent Harry E. Jamason, Charles Osburn, and Carson White.

The nine measures submitted to California voters concern homeowners property tax exemption, constitutional revision, taxation on publicly owned property, school bonds, personal income taxes, hospital loans, insurance companies, state funds, apportionment of local sales taxes, and tax limitations on property taxes rates.

Polls will be open Tuesday, November 5, from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. in most areas of the state.

Stage Big Narcotics Raid In Nevada City-Grass Valley

A 120-man squad of police from six counties last week arrested 39 persons and seized an estimated $5,000 worth of marijuana, LSD and other dangerous drugs in a mass raid conducted in Nevada County. Most of the arrests were in Nevada City and towns in Grass Valley.

Eight more arrests were made this week including two 14-year-old boys, bringing the total arrests to 47.

The raids and arrests are reported to be the largest ever staged in Northern California. They were the result of investigations during the last two months in several counties.

Officers reported marijuana and LSD was in use Sunday when the latest arrests were made. On drug party broken up was in a house rented by a 17-year-old girl on Beckman Hill Road west of Grass Valley.

Late Sunday and early Monday three Grass Valley teenagers were arrested, one of whom, a 16-year-old girl, was charged with cultivating marijuna plants. A 16-year-old boy was picked up at Nevada Union High School in Grass Valley and the third, Darrell Wayne Wyatt, 19, was picked up Monday at his home by sheriff's deputies.

Three other youths, two of them 14 and the other aged 16, were also arrested and taken to Juvenile Hall.

Sidney Earl Thompson, 20, and Dolar James Steadman, 25, both of Grass Valley, indicted last Friday by the County Grand Jury, were arrested late Monday. Thompson was held in lieu of $12,500 and bail for Steadman was set at $2,500.

The 39 persons previously arrested include nine other persons arrested on bench warrants and a father and his 15-year-old daughter.

Fugitive Surrenders To Lola

Mrs. Lola Toccalini was alone in the sheriff's office in Truckee Wednesday morning when a man, who identified himself as E. J. Taylor, 36, of Vallejo walked in and announced he was wanted for armed robbery and assault with a deadly weapon.

Mrs. Toccalini asked the visitor to take a seat and poured him a cup of coffee while she attempted to contact one of the officers. Unable to immediately locate an officer, she called the sheriff's office in Nevada City for instructions.

Undersheriff Frank Gallino called the California Highway Patrol in Truckee and an officer was dispatched to the office where Taylor awaited patiently.

It was revealed that Taylor was wanted in Vallejo in connection with a service station robbery three days ago. A warrant for his arrest was issued and bail set at $10,000. Taylor told officers he had served time in Ohio before coming to California.

He was taken to Nevada City and Vallejo authorities notified.

Mrs. Toccalini reported afterward that she was not particularly nervous while she waited with Taylor for an officer to arrive.

State Upholds Hospital In Dr. Hendrickson Dismissal

The Tahoe Forest Hospital Board of Directors in a special meeting Monday afternoon heard the findings of an investigation by Coleman E. Stewart of the Office of Administrative Procedures of the California Department of General Services into questions of the "professional competency, qualifications, and ethics" of Dr. Edwin O. Hendrickson of Donner Lake.

Of 35 separate counts charged against Dr. Hendrickson by Tahoe Forest Hospital, the hearing officer upheld 28 of the complaints, including specific charges of "refusing to go to the hospital to examine, care for, and treat emergency patients while he was the emergency on-call doctor," "poor clinical judgment and incompetent treatment," "misdiagnosis," "failure to record adequate reports," "demands for immediate payment by hospital patients," and "assault upon a hospital patient." Four of the counts were voluntarily dismissed, two of them found partially not true, and one not true in its entirety.

The hearing officer recommended the hospital affirm its suspension of Dr. Hendrickson.

Hospital spokesmen noted that Dr. Hendrickson may, under terms of the by-laws, appeal the findings within 10 days and that at the end of that period the board of directors will make their final decision regarding the suspension.

Judge Byrne Is Studying Suit Against Grand Jury

Can a grand jury member be compelled to reveal information about an investigation?

This is the question Superior Judge William Byrne has taken under advisment following a motion by Franklin Dill, attorney representing McCrearry-Koretsky Engineers.

The motion is a legal maneuvor in a $6.2 million defamation suit filed by MKE against 16 members of the 1967 Placer County Grand Jury. Dill asked in his motion that former grand juror Raymond Thompson be ordered to answer specific questions about an investigation of the Placer County Water Agency.

As a result of the water agency investigation, an interim report recommended MKE be fired as an agency consultant. Indications were the engineering firm was responsible for lawsuits against the agency that runs into millions of dollars.

Dill maintains in the case against the jury it is necessary to know "was there any evidence, any witnesses sworn or not sworn or documents introduced?"

Attorney Douglas McDonald, the county's insurance counsel, said,

"To force Thompson to answer questions would be to rip open a vital function of the grand jury system."

He noted the grand jury system was like a lawyer-client relationship and the relationship of a priest and parishioner.

"If Mr. Dill wants to take on the burden to sue the grand jury he should do so through standard channels," McDonald said.

Incline Voters Faced With Full Slate Of Candidates

Voters on the Nevada side of Lake Tahoe go to the polls Tuesday to vote on a bond question, four questions on amending the state constitution and a bevy of elective offices besides that of the president and vice president of the United States.

Humphrey-Muskie, Nixon-Agnew and Wallace-Griffin are the presidential and vice presidential ticket choices voters will decide.

For United States senator Republican Ed Fike is running against incumbent Alan Bible and in the house of representatives, incumbent Walter Baring, democrat, is seeking another term against Republican James Slattery.

Gordon Thompson and John Mowbray are unopposed for 6-year terms as Justices of the Supreme Court. On the four-year term seat as supreme justice, Cameron M. Batjer is running against John F. Mendoza.

In the race for two regents for the University of Nevada, Dr. Fred M. Anderson, Royal Anderson, Procter Hug Jr. and Hewitt C. Wells are competing.

Ronald Logar is unopposed for two-year term from district four on the board of education. Also unopposed is Emile J. Gezelin, for second judicial district judge.

Republican Jack T. Brian is competing with Democratic candidate Procter R. Hug Sr. for the seat of State Senator at Large from Storey and Washoe Counties. The office of public administrator will be filled by Edward F. Hill, democrat, or Carl M. Loer, Republican.

Two county hospital trustees will be chosen from among hopefuls Dr. John C. Becker, Louis T. Mastos, Dr. Benjamin Drummer and Dr. Mark B. Raymond.

Republicans Len Harris and Clifton Young are unopposed for the two openings for state senators from Reno, North Tahoe, Verdi and Storey Legislative District.

The State Assembly race from the Reno, North Tahoe, Verdi and Storey Legislative District will find voters choosing nine from a field of fifteen. They are Republicans Randall Capurro, Mary Frazzini, Leslie Mack Fry, Thomas M. Kean, C.W. Lingenfelter, Howard F. McKissick Jr., Bart M. Schouweiler, Roy L. Torvinen and James E. Wood and Democrats Michael R. Begley, Bud Garfinkle, David Warner Hagen, Keith J. Henrikson, Edward Kruse and Robert G. Marsh.

Three school trustees within the city of Reno and one from outside Reno will be chosen. Brent G. Abbott, Elizabeth C. Munley, William A. O'Brien, III, Edward L. Pine and Edward C. Reed, Jr. are seeking the three city seats. Competing for the single seat are Virginia H. Cain and H. Elizabeth Lenz.

Incumbent Justice of the Peace William R. Beemer is being opposed on the ballot by George Pagliaro for the Reno Township post.

In regard to the bond question, the Juvenile Detention home is asking for Washoe County issuance of $675,000.00 general obligation bonds for improvements and equipment of the detention facility at Reno.

PARK AID – Assemblyman Eugene Chappie, right, presents a check in the amount of $31,210 to superintendent H. P. Tapia of the Truckee-Donner Recreation Park District; money represents an advance payment for the Truckee River Regional Park development, was presented Friday in Chappie's Assembly office.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR, SIERRA SUN:

I as a interested voter of the 5th Supervisorial District of Placer County would like to point out to the people of our area the importance of selecting the candidate that will serve the best interest of All the people of Placer County.

We have had a Board of Supervisors, including the two incumbents, who have done little in the interest of the taxpayers of this county to brag about and have been in office a long time, too long!

I met Douglas Duff, the "Write-in Candidate," about three years ago when he was organizing a group of home-owners and small Building Contractors to go before the Board of Supervisors. They were successful, because of their diligent efforts, in securing a much needed Board of Appeals to protect the rights of property owners against arbitrary rulings of the county. I was extremely impressed with his energetic nature and his great knowledge of problems and solutions of county in particular and all government in general.

Mr. Duff has been an active leader and organizer of a county taxpayers group and a county contractors assn. among other things. A man who has spent a great deal of time in the interest of all Placer County.

We need a supervisor with a sincere concern for all the people all the time and not just some of the people some of the time. If you agree please "Write-in Duff" for Supervisor on Nov. 5th!

WILLIAM L. SLAYDEN

EDITOR, SIERRA SUN:

(An open letter to the voters of Placer County.)

It is apparent to most political observers, keen or casual, that in times like these, when the business climate is booming, and growth, progress and change are part of our every day life, Government — all Government, tends to become wasteful and inefficient. These deficiencies can be traced back to those voters, who did not take the time to assure themselves that their representatives have such qualifications, as leadership and insight toward sound fiscal planning.

Fortunately, the voters in Placer County Supervisorial District No. 5 have Bill Briner, a well qualified man, working for their best interests.

Bill's qualifications: experience, youth, education, and a strong dedication to solve the problems of Placer County within the framework of sound fiscal management.

Leadership: Bill has consistantly fought to insure that our tax dollars be used in areas where they produce the greatest benefits to all the people. An example of this is the new County Kings Beach Marina development soon to be constructed.

Briner has unswervingly battled for Local control—Government by those affected! For example, when the California Tahoe Regional Planning Agency was conceived, the intent of the special interest groups was to appoint 11 men from the State to control the affairs of Lake Tahoe. Bill Briner attacked and defeated this plan. The five man Board that now makes up the CTRPA has two members appointed by tne Governor, and three that are directly elected by the people of the Lake Tahoe area.

Bill Briner is responsive leadership — and responsible government. In my opinion, Bill Briner is one of the best qualified and most dedicated public servants that I have encountered. I strongly urge that you give Bill Briner all your support on November 5th.

Retain William S. "Bill" Briner, Supervisor 5th District!

EDITOR, SIERRA SUN:

I have in my possession a complete brochure of Tahoe Tavern from the year 1909. I recently found this in a group of old papers in an old building in a small town in Western Iowa.

This brochure is in surprisingly good shape.

This thing of course depicts some of the attractions to that area in that era of time.

There is a picture of the Tahoe Tavern, the casino, plus pictures of fishermen and women with their catches of cut throat and Mackinaw.

I wrote to the chamber of commerce there at Tahoe and received a letter back today that told me to contact you people there. They tell me that Ponderosa Ranch has been collecting historical items.

I would like to know if anyone you might know would be interested in this brochure — as a collectors item or as a historical thing.

If anyone would care to make a reasonable offer for this item, I would be willing to send this by registered mail for inspection of anyone who might be interested.

If you could get me information of whether this item is a desirable thing I would greatly appreciate hearing from someone in that vicinity.

EDITOR, SIERRA SUN:

Douglas Duff, the writein candidate for the 5th Supervisorial District of Placer County has been the leader in our Tax Association in trying to get the Tax Assessor and the Board of Supervisors to list the improvements that property owners may make on their homes or property without having their taxes raised.

As Mr. Duff has pointed out to us many times, taxing people for improving their property is a negative tax and discourages owners from improving or beautifying their homes.

We need new blood in the 5th District. Someone who will fight for the taxpayers and hold the line on expenditures and taxes.

Let's get behind Douglas Duff and help put him in the Supervisors seat of the 5th District. I'm writing in Duff and stamping the dot after his name on my ballot.

How about you Mr. Taxpayer?

DEWEY M. HOUSLEY
Applegate, Calif.

When a local tax paying resident is admitted to the Tahoe Forest Hospital for treatment he receives a small consideration of $3.00 per day on his room rate with no consideration for his x-rays, laboratory, pharmacy and other charges. I have always felt that the tax payers should get a better break then this for it was tax funds that built this hospital and it is the tax payer who supports it each year with a portion of his tax dollar.

An itinerate patient, on the other hand, who has contributed nothing toward the construction and maintenance of this hospital enjoys all the same advantages as the tax payer except for this small consideration of $3.00 a day. If he works for a large company in Sacramento or the Bay Area he is fully covered by group insurance and if his wife is employed he is covered under her policy. If he was involved in a hiway accident he may well be covered by a third insurance carrier. Not only are his hospital bills paid in full but in many instances he has money left over that is refunded to him. Compare this to a local merchant who must carry his own hospitalization insurance. It is probably $50.00 deductable and 20% co-insurance, which means that his insurance carrier will pay 80% of his hospital bill after the patient paid the first $50.00. It is my feeling after 20 years of practice and participation in medical insurance claims that hospital charges should be higher for the itinerate patient and lower for tax payers who contribute annually through his tax dollar.

I agree with Dr. Wilkins, Chief of Staff, that their should be one Medical Doctor on the Governing Boards of Hospitals but it should not be a doctor who represents the interests of a particular medical group. Dr. Masters is a fine anesthesiologist but he is not always here when his services are needed on emergency cases. He performs more work in Auburn where there is a greater demand for his service. The governing board has already agreed at their last meeting to hire a nurse anesthetist who would be here all the time. If Dr. Masters is elected as a director of the hospital and then decides to move to Auburn more permanently, where he does most of his work, his vacancy on the board of directors would then be filled by a political appointee and the voters would have nothing to say about it. Dr. Masters is now being paid a stand-by salary from the board of directors of this hospital because his income here from anesthesia fees is not sufficient to support him.

If this hospital is to ever pay its own way without tax support we must open the medical staff to other licensed California doctors who would enjoy moving into this beautiful country and setting up practice. The fate of this hospital should not be in the hands of the present medical staff but should rest with the governing board of directors. The competition of some new doctors in this area would be a good thing and would lead to improved medical care.

Solon Visits 2nd District

Continuing his pre-election swing through the 20 counties of the Second Congressional District, Representative Harold T. (Bizz) Johnson will visit seven counties this week.

Commencing with a one-day tour of Tehama County, Sunday, Congressman Johnson will visit Madera, Mariposa, Tuolumne, Calaveras, Trinity, Siskiyou and Nevada counties before the end of the week.

At each of the stops, Johnson will hold informal meetings and discuss the actions of the 90th Congress which adjourned in mid-October and discuss the issues which will be faced by the 91st Congress opening Jan. 3.

State Chamber Asks Yes On 2

The September 1968 issue of the "Bulletin", published by the California State Chamber of Commerce, includes a recommendation by the Chamber for a "yes" vote on Proposition 2. In recommending support of Proposition 2 the "Bulletin" includes the following statement:

"The proposal was designed to relieve the continuing and costly controversy relating to certain publicly-owned, taxable properties located out-side the boundaries of the owning jurisdictions because of the assessment practices employed. It establishes a formula which fixes the assessed value of such puclicly-owned properties in relation to the overall economy of the state, eliminating the uncertainties and wide divergence of opinions other assessment techniques have produce. The valuation of the publicly-owned faciflities, through the use of a formula, will increase at an estimated 5 per cent each year.

"The amendment will assure the continuance of an adequate tax base related to publicly-owned lands subject to valuation for assessment purposes; and it will assure public agencies owning the property that their citizens will not bear more than an equitable share of taxes levied in the taxing counties."

Briner Asks Understanding Of Regional Government

Supervisor Bill Briner strongly feels that it is becoming ever important for the local voter to be aware of what is happening both in populated urban areas and in the outlying, less-populated areas of Placer County. Regional Government is the name, various forms of which are springing up around us today.

This dilema can be extremely dangerous to the future of the smaller, thinly-populated areas of our County and State, according to Briner.

The Sacramento Area Regional Planning Commission, the Regional Health Planning Council, and the Hospital Planning Council are forms of regional government which have to be watched very carefully. These have people who are appointed to their positions, not elected, and there-in lies the problem, Briner said "As regional government and agencies become more powerful, all surrounding counties and cities must take part or suffer the consequences. We have to remember that the voice of the people can only be heard at the polls."

Without involvement by the elected officials, the voice of the people will not be heard, and in the future will be circumvented by appointive government, Briner said.

SUNBEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

With the general election coming up next Tuesday and very important decisions to be made, it is hoped that every eligible citizen will exercise his right and get to the polls to cast a ballot.

The state department of agriculture is starting to phase out its quarantine stations with the Topaz Lake and Susanville units being the first to go and the other 16 scheduled to be discontinued during the next few year. To us, as well as many others, including the farming interests, this is a ridiculous step in the wrong direction. As one of the most important agricultural states in the nation, California depends largely upon its border stations to prevent an influx of damaging insects and plants which might easily cause millions of dollars worth of damage to the state's crops.

Since the early 1920's the quarantine stations have stood as a bulwark against infestation by all sorts of harmful insects and disease and it seems impossible that the very department which is designed to protect agriculture would eliminate the inspection.

We must agree that the inspectors at the stations cannot prevent all dangerous insects or plants from entering the state, but their efforts in the past have been fruitful in many instances and with a little more intensified inspection they could be even more effective.

The fact that most people entering the state know they will be subjected to an inspection upon entering California, acts as a deterrent and probably prevents many from bringing in insects, plant disease and other matter which could raise havoc with our great agricultural industry.

We can only hope the department listens to the farming interests until a better way of protecting our crops is found.

Message From Frank Paoli

"Having represented a portion of the Lake Tahoe area for three terms as supervisor, I am well aware of the needs of the lake, which is situated so far from the Placer County seat. During the time I represented the lake area, I proved it is not necessary to live in an area to give it strong effective representation.

Retention of the most qualified man sitting on the board is the most important aspect.

After January 2, there will be only one supervisor in the new fifth district representing approximately 60% of the land area of Placer County. My years of experience and seniority on the board has a valuable asset in furthering district five interests.

Annual Membership Party For Lake Tahoe Ski Club

The winer season got off to a fine start last Friday evening as the Lake Tahoe Ski Club held its annual membership gala at the North Shore Club. Those attending enjoyed dining, dancing and a glamorous fashion show of colorful ski clothes.

President Sam Quinan presided over the festivities with Margaret Birmingham acting as commentator of the fashion show which was directed by Sharon Laferriere. Modelling the ski outfits were Virginia Wood, Judi Birmingham, Jacquie Schutt, Sharon Park, Kathy Stoina, Dee Santana, Pat Gregor, Darlene Osborne, Marge Ewen, Marilyn Smith and Sharon Laferriere. The ski and after–ski wear shown were from the Village Store, Porter's, Butler's, the LaTour Ski Shop, Codding and Wetzel, Nance's Mountain Shop and the Sports Shop of Alpine Meadows.

Chairman Sue McCafferty reports that more than two hundred ski enthusiasts attended the affair and assisting Mrs. McCafferty with the arrangements were Buzz Packard, An VonDerAhe, Vonnie Jones and Helene Hawkins.

Rose Sees Tax Return

It appears certain the Nevada County Board of Supervisors will increase the Hotel–Motel Tax from 4 per cent to 5 per cent in the near future, according to supervisorial candidate Zeph Rose. Because this tax is paid by non–residents and because 5 per cent is the amount the traveling public is accustomed to paying elsewhere, it seems to me this increase is reasonable..

"However," Rose said, "in other areas the Hotel–Motel Tax is used to promote and in various ways to increase the business of the establishments that collect the tax. This follows normal good business practice, which is to set aside a portion of business income to improve the business."

Rose went on to say, "Since the Truckee area paid most of the $18,000 room tax last year, it is to our interest to do everything in our power to have as much of this tax as possible earmarked for promotional activities in the area where it is collected. I would suggest a sizeable turnout at the upcoming public hearing to be held on this one per cent increase. If elected supervisor, I will work to bring the major portion of the full 5 per cent amount back to our district."

One of the early beliefs was that on Halloween, the eve before All Saints Day, the spirits of the departed were allowed to visit their homes.

3. Provide here in Truckee the legal services of the District Attorney's office and the County Counsel's office on a full time basis.
4. Review the operations of all the approximately 30 county departments with a view to receiving a greater benefit WITHOUT increasing costs.
5. Build and operate in Truckee with county, state and federal funds a major information and rest center to serve the many thousands of visitors and travelers who normally pass us by.
6. With the aid of outside funds assist the Truckee Merchants Association to renovate downtown Truckee.
7. See that the people of Floriston receive help in paving their almost impassable public streets.
8. Maintain maximum maintenance on all streets and roads in our district including Donner Summit.
9. Keep snow clear of public parking areas as much as possible as an additional public service and to keep parked cars off the roads — thus increasing normal snow removal efficiency.
10. Promote the attitude throughout all county employees that their reason for being on the county payroll is to serve the public. to the best of their ability.

News From Floriston

By Mrs. JAMES BARBEN

A very special thing happened in Floriston this past week-two local seventh graders, Kathy Rusco and Connie Sligar, began a weekly newspaper appropriately called the Weekly Floristonian.

The paper was two full pages long and consisted of local news and ads, property owners financial report, coming events and a special editorial on Carl Briggs, Sierra Sun editorial, "Mountainfolk".

The Floristonian was well written and rumor has it that we shall have excellent continued coverage by our young and enthusiastic editors. Thanks girls, for helping to make Floriston a unique place to live.

The annual Kids Halloween Party was held Saturday night at the old school house with a special silent "Our Gang Comedy" spook film presented most successfully by Tom West of Floriston.

Special guest, Rex Anderson, principal of Truckee Elementary School, was one of the three judges for the costume parade.

Prizes were awarded in three age group divisions and also for winners of the apple-dunk and pin – the-nose-on-the-Jack-o-lantern. A great time was had by all and credit goes to the energetic Floriston Recreation Committee.

Truck Mishap Kills Driver

TAHOE CITY – Lee Alan Williams, 23 was killed instantly Monday morning in a one vehicle accident on Tahoe Park Heights Drive here.

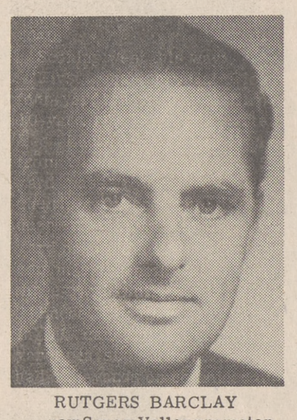
Placer County Sheriff's deputies report skid marks indicate the big tanker road sprinkler driven by Williams and belonging to the Northrup Corp., apparently went out of control wnile descending the steep grade. Officers surmise the driver either jumped or was thrown from the vehicle. He was decapitated by a street sign.

Cause of the accident is still under investigation by the California Highway Patrol.

Williams, who formerly lived in Roseville, is survived by a wife and two children. The family lives south of Tahoe City. The body was taken to Quinn's Mortuary in Colfax. Burial plans are pending.

Credit Card Traveling The New Way For Skiers

Here in the heart of the greatest recreational skiing area in the world several millions of dollars will be spent by skiers in the next six months. The big scramble is on between the various ski spas.



RUTGERS BARCLAY
. . . new Squaw Valley promoter.

Reno is kicking off its enticing "Ski-Reno" package in hopes of getting the eastern trade over the Rockies. Southshore's Sahara Tahoe is tempting them form all directions with five-day package plans with the accent on economy, and the Ski Tahoe North group is effectively invading the Southern California and Seattle heavy population areas for increasing skiers, to travel during mid-week to this area.

Most of the visitors will not be carrying the familiar green stuff to our white slopes. Credit card skiing is the in-thing now. Greyhound Buses use Bank of America and Master Charge. Airlines all accept credit cards. Squaw Valley accepts Diners Card, American Express, Bank of America and Master for accomodations, meals and lifts.

Sugar Bowl only accepts city account card holders for its lifts and lodging. Alpine Meadows accepts all four credit cards for lift tickets. Incline Village uses American Express and Master Charge. Boreal Ridge accepts Bank of America and Master for season passes only.

Bank checks are almost a thing of the past. Too many resorts have been stuck with bum checks by artists who have an imposing array of credentials. Squaw Valley was stuck with over $3,000 in bad checks last season. Best advice to skiers with credit cards is to guard them with your life. Remember, if you lose the card or cards, it is money out of your bank. Immediate cancellation is a must.

Even Safeway has jumped on the credit card bandwaggon after discovering tourists spend more money when using credit. Ski shops and clothing stores have joined the change.

Accounting for expenses seems to be easier for those income tax-consious persons. The seller is assured of his money, the buyer can spend what he wants and everyone seems to be happy.

Marketing Manager For Squaw Valley

OLYMPIC VALLEY–Rutgers Barclay has been appointed marketing manager of Squaw Valley Development Company.

Barclay was formerly National Merchandising and Promotion manager for Schweppes (USA) Ltd. in New York.

As marketing manager, a new post, Barclay will be responsible for all advertising, promotion, public relations and publicity for the large ski resort in California's High Sierra.

A native New Yorker, he is a graduate of St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., and Yale University (Class of 1957). A former naval officer, he was an account executive with Ogilvy and Mather, Inc., a New York advertising agency, prior to joining Schweppes.

Incline Loses To Whittell

INCLINE VILLAGE–Whittell High rolled a natural Saturday-seven straight wins as it upended Incline Village High, 43-0.

Scoring went this way:

First quarter: Cal Olson, four-yard run; Dan McElroy, 10-yard run. Second quarter: Leo Luchetti, 30-yard pass from Olson; John Weiss, 50-yard pass from Luchetti; Luchetti, 9-yard run. Third quarter: Kelly Kramer, 45-yard pass from Olson, Luchetti ran in extra point; Giordano, three-yard run.

Luchetti gained 127 yards in 11 carries; McElroy 32 yards in six carries. Incline had 28 yards on combined offense. Todd Bostwick has 13 tackles. Incline wound up with a 2-4 mark.

Whittell had 365 yards total offense, 151 of which came on the ground, 214 in the air.

Squaw Valley Tramway On Schedule For Completion

The Squaw Valley Cable Car, the World's largest and newest aerial tramway, will be open to the public by mid-December. Each of the two futuristicly designed cars of the aerial tramway will hold 120 skiers.

The giant cable cars will whisk skiers up to 2,000 feet from the 6,200 foot level to the 8,200 foot level onto a vast new snowfield especially suitable for novice and intermediate skiers. The trip up, to be made at a speed of 27 mph, will take only seven minutes. The 28-foot-long cars which were built in Switzerland, will have eight-foot doors opening on both sides. They can be loaded or unloaded in two minutes.

"The Monster," as the new $3,000,000 aerial tramway is affectionately called by Squaw Valley residents, is the latest addition to America's largest ski-lift complex. Three new double chairlifts were also built this summer, bringing the total lifts to eighteen double chairs, not to mention a four-passenger gondola lift and six platter lifts criss-crossing the vast open alpine terrain.

The cable car will start from a modernistic terminal nestled into the Squaw Valley Lodge building complex. In the new buildings, skiers will be programmed through a series of "ready rooms" at on minute intervals. America's largest passenger elevator, akin to an aircraft carrier's plane elevator, will then lift 120 skiers, or one car load, to the "maximum alert" room, from which they will board the cable car.

This world famous California high Sierra ski resort complex has grown steadily since it was the host to the 1960 Olympic Winter Games. The lift capacity is now 22,150 skiers per hour. Squaw Valley's slogan of "Ski – Don't Wait" should be especially apt this year with the addition of their new cable car.

Snow stakes are up along the niways, "chains required" signs are ready to turn and except for some building projects still to be finished, things are in readiness for the predicted heavy snow this winter. This beautiful Indian summer can't last, we all know, but hasn't it been great.

The Lake Tahoe Skii Club (yes they like two ii's) had it's annual membership dinner at North Shore Club last Friday evening. New officers of this eager group of skiiers that have been organized since the late 20's are: Sam Quinan, president; Ray Kettenhofen, first vice president; Don Williams, second vice president; Ann VonDerAhe, corresponding secretary; Bud Jones, Alpine competition director; the late Jerry Wetzel was nordic competition director and as of this date no one has been named for this post; Buzz Packard, Sue McCafferty, and Jim Gillen are directors at large.

Eddy Ancinas, recording secretary; Cliff Frazier, tournament director; Bill Nagle, director and Clyde Nance, treasurer are filling out their terms of office.

Their junior race program is tops and several of the local kids have gone on to national and international events, Vicki Jones and Jimmy Heuga are two of the most prominent racers.

With skiing a few weeks away, one way to get in the mood is to view ski movies. The Tamarack Ski Club of Sacramento will show Dick Barrymore's latest, "The Tenth Winter, November 4 at the Sacramento High School auditorium at 8:15. Get there early for a seat, though.

Aspen Colorado is offering movies to ski clubs and shops free, except for postage, that show Aspen, Buttermilk, and Snowmass at their best, powder snow and the fantastic night lift to be found there. Write: The Aspen Skiing Corporation, Box 1248, Aspen, Colorado 81611.

Ski magazines are dotting the shelves now, but if you'd like your own subscription to them; Ski, P.O. Box 514, Des Moines, Iowa, 50302, one year $5; Skiing, Ziff-Davis Publishing Company, 307 North Michigan Ave., Chicago, Illinois, 60601, one year $3; Western Skier, John Todd-Dennis Brunell, 2802 West Palm Lane, Phoenix, Arizona 85009, one year $3.50. Most ski magazines have six issues per year.

If you are a member of the Far West Ski Association you receive the Western Skier free and also a discount coupon book worth $125, along with other valuable benefits of organized skiing. FWSA, 812 Howard Street, San Francisco, California 94103, individual, $7, spouse, $3; junior under 18, $3.

Boreal Ridge ski area on Donner Summit next to Interstate 80 has a great offer for families; two adults and two children under 13 can get a season pass for $170 before November 1 or $180 before December 1, a value of $210.00.

Weekday passes are good, for a family of two adults and two children under 13, only $80 with a 10 per cent discount if purchased before November 1. Only a few days left. Weekdays are best for uncrowded conditions. Write Boreal Ridge, P.O. Box 38-J, Truckee, Calif. 95734. Phone 426-3666 or 587 3681.

The big event this Saturday is the fifth annual Ski Swap held by the Tahoe Community Nursery School at Alpine Meadows Lodge.

Pre-registration hours are 5 to 9 p.m. on Friday with the swap being held from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday.

Admission charge is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children. Beside the swapping of ski equipment and clothes, there will be booths from local ski shops, soft drinks and refreshments all day, beer and wine, the ever-popular grab bag, and lots of talk with friends about the coming ski season. Be sure to attend this worth while event.

Kings Beach Wins Again

Kings Beach Lions protected an unblemished record Thursday by grinding out an 18-0 victory over the Truckee Cubs in spite of a wet, slippery field.

After an uneventful first quarter Russell Brett picked off a third down pass attempt-during the second quarter and ran yards to a touchdown. A successful pass from Kornazewich to Ferrari for the point after touchdown was nulified by a penalty.

In the third quarter, a 20-yard pass from Kornazewich to Ferrari put the ball on the one yard line. Jeff Molsberry plowed over left tackle for the score and the quarter ended with the lions leading 12-0.

For the final scoring Kornazewich dropped back behind perfect blocking for a pass to Brent Thompson who ran untouched into the end zone.

This is the third time this year the Lions have held the Cubs scoreless and much credit is due the blocking of Steve Pennino, Jim Rueckheim, Mark Price, Steve Letlow and Dean Snook as well as the interference provided by Steve Russell and Mitch Frazier.

The Lions take on Tahoe City this week on Thursday, Oct. 31 at Kings Beach School.

Dear Friend:

I hardly need to remind you of the importance of this year's election. This importance stems from the fact that for the first time in our nation's history, an American President will face not only the problem of restoring peace abroad, but of restoring peace at home.

In a period of great national concern, the people of your district are indeed fortunate to have Oz Dunaway as a Republican candidate for the United States Congress. He is highly qualified and would be an outstanding spokesman for California's Second Congressional District as we move into the challenging 70's.

During fourteen years in Washington, I learned the awesome nature of the great decisions a President faces. And, I know the importance of close cooperation between the Executive and Legislative branches of our government. America needs a complete change of national leadership and a Republican majority in Congress. An across-the-board Republican victory on November 5 will give us the opportunity for change that our nation needs so desperately.

I urge you to give Oz Dunaway your support in November so that he can add his energy, initiative and ability to the new Republican team that will take office in January.

Sincerely,
Richard Nixon

Philip James Longo Married To Jane Perry

St. Victor's Catholic Church, West Hollywood, was the setting Saturday when Miss Jane Worthington Perry was united in marriage at a Nuptial Mass to Philip James Longo of Van Nuys, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Longo of Truckee.

Jane is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James C. Perry of Jackson, Mississippi where he is a Professor of Zoology at Milshaps College. Previously he taught at Marquett University in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. He gave his daughter away.

The bride wore an ivory worsted silk and wool full-length dress. The neck, long sleeves, and front of the dress were trimmed with hand crocheted venise lace. The matching veil was shoulder length of ivory silk tulle. Antique wrought gold and hand carved ivory earrings were her only jewelry. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Robert D. Madden of Rochester, Minnesota was her matron-of-honor. She and the other bride's attendant, Barbara Babcock, wore full length, short sleeved gold cotton and wool worsted dresses and carried white and gold carnation nosegays.

The bride's mother, Mrs. James C. Perry, wore a turquoise silk long sleeve dress and matching lace redingcoat. Mrs. Francis Longo, the groom's mother, wore a brown silk suit trimmed in mink.

The bridegroom's best man was Frank Vanbrock. Frank Young was the other groom's attendant. Paul Longo, son of the bridegroom by a previous marriage, was ringbearer. Another son, Joe Longo, served Mass. Ushers were Misters Edward Horta and Donald Mosca.

Jane received a B.A. in Drama and English at Mount Mary College in Milwaukee, Wisconsin and a M.A. in speech from UCLA where she also taught speech as an associate. She will continue her career as a teacher and fashion show coordinator and commentator. The bridegroom graduated from Gonzaga University in Washington. He is a C.P.A.

The reception was held at the groom's home, 13405 Bromwich, Arleta, where the couple will live after a honeymoon in Mexico.

David Gary Henry Accepted In Photographers Group

David Gary Henry, owner of PhotoArt in Tahoe City, has been accepted as a member of the Professional Photographers of America, Inc., it was announced last week. He is to receive full membership benefits in the professional photographers' group.

The photographer has affirmed his desire at all times to abide by the PP of A's code of ethics, it was further announced. The code sets forth high professional standards designed to benefit purchasers of photography and to advance the profession of photography. It will be displayed in Henry's place of business.

The PP of A is one of America's oldest professional associations, having been founded during the days of the tintype in 1880. Today, it represents more than 11,000 professional portrait, commercial and industrial photographers.

Members are listed in "The Directory of Professional Photography" and receive the directory and other publications. They also enjoy such services as group insurance plans, public relations representation, business management aids, legal counsel, etc.

To help members maintain high standards and an awareness of new developments, the association conducts a school of advanced photography at Winona Lake, Indiana and an annual Exposition of Professional Photography.

Colleen Little Is Married To Santiago Mendoza

Now at home in Truckee, Mr. and Mrs. Santiago Mendoza were married Sept. 29 during a noon ceremony at Chapel of the Bells in Reno. The young couple will have a delayed honeymoon later in Mexico.

Mrs. Mendoza is the former Colleen Little of Truckee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Little. Her bridegroom is the son of Sr. and Sra. Santiago Mendoza Jiminez of Alapulco, Mexico.

Matron of honor for the bride was Mrs. Edith Lazzari while Linda Little, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Standing with the bridegroom were his uncles, Abraham and Jesse Jiminez.

Mrs. Mendoza wore a floor length empire gown of lace over taffeta with a chapel length train and pencil-slim sleeves. She carried pink roses. Her attendants were gowned in blue lace and pink lace.

The newlyweds were greeted by 75 friends and relatives during a reception held at Donner Lake Lodge.

Mrs. Mendoza attended Tahoe – Truckee High School. Her husband is a graduate of Mexico schools. He is employed by Southern Pacific Railroad.

Complicated Communications Network To Handle Election Returns And Results

Pacific Telephone is preparing for the biggest communications night of the year—November 5—when election returns from ten Western states plus Alaska and Hawaii will pour into California for relay to New York.

California will feed election returns into a nationwide communications network, News Election Service (NES), which combines the resources of the telephone company, the news services and the major television networks.

The high-speed communications system will make it possible to report the November general election returns faster and more accurately than ever before.

"The telephone is the first link in the reporting process," explains Manager Jack Domergue.

"After the polls close in California the returns will be phoned to the regional election center, the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles, which will relay them by data transmission to the NES computer center in New York.

"Within three minutes after transmission to New York begins, the Los Angeles regional center will have the results back."

More than 125,000 NES reporters in all 50 states and the District of Columbia will be reporting unofficial returns election night. Seven regional centers around the nation will collect vote tallies from NES reporters in the specific states assigned to them.

"In the Biltmore center alone," Domergue says, "more than 450 telephones will be installed to receive an anticipated 30,000 to 40,000 calls from the NES reporters,

"Long distance operators throughout the country," Domergue adds, "are being instructed in special streamlined election night calling arrangements for the NES reporters. The faster the call is completed, the faster the election picture will be formed."

NES will gather and total the vote for candidates for president, vice president, U.S. Senate, House of Representatives, and state governor.

The central computer in New York will sort votes and keep running totals. Results will be given at intervals — one minute for the presidential race, five minutes for senatorial, gubernatorial, and congressional races — to each of the NES members simultaneously.

Domergue notes that vote tabulations will be sent around the country in three ways: By Data-Phone service back to the regional centers, for direct distribution to each NES state headquarters; over a private line teletypewriter network to each NES member, and by private line data system for computer to computer transmission.

Coordinating the sprawling communications system, and acting as liaison between NES, the Bell System, and independent telephone companies is the American Telephone and Telegraph Company's Long Lines department.

Trem Talk

By BETTY SHIVELY

The activities of TNT keep teachers and students plenty busy along with the regular academic work. Last Monday during activity schedule students had to decide which of seven meetings to attend. CSF started to make plans for the coming year. The members are going to sell Christmas wrapping paper as they did last year, to raise money.

The money will help supplement the scholarship given by CSF at the end of the year. The Frosh class used their meeting hour electing officers for the year. The new leader is a cute one, Sheri Sassarini; vice president, Cal Felte; secretary, Katie Funk; student council rep., Julie Morris.

The wrestling team is planning the new season's team – the mighty brutes of TNT! Mr. Fouts will coach the debating team this year.

School pictures arrived last Monday. It is fun seeing your friends in still-life as compared to the usual animated action. The best part of school pictures though, is collecting everyone's portraits.

A number of juniors and seniors spent all of Tuesday morning in the cafeteria. No, they weren't coaching the cooks, but taking the P.S.A.T test.

No more mad rush to catch the buses at 3:27. The transportation wagons now have a ten-minute boarding time before departing from the school. But still there is a dash at 3:27, not to catch the bus necessarily, but just to get out of school.

The student council adopted a resolution drawn up by Eric Von Der Ahe pertaining to the county-wide library. The resolution will be sent to the Nevada County Board of Supervisors. Ideas were brought up at their meeting for fund-raising projects. Anyone in the audience have any money-making thoughts? Vice president, John Gorrindo, mentioned setting up a "suggestion box". The purpose of the box would be to better communications within the school. A person could simply write a constructive idea or opinion on a piece of paper and drop it in "the box." The suggestions would be reviewed at the weekly student council meetings.

The song fest is being rehearsed over and over to present the very best in singing and instrumental accompaniment. Circle November 8 – a Friday evening – for this is the date of the song fest presentation. Mrs. Barbara Small is doing a wonderful job of organizing the program.

School Site Wins Okay

The Placer County Planning Commission has approved in principle a site for an elementary school on a 10-acre site near Tahoe City, Lake Tahoe.

The commission yesterday indicated there are some road problems to be resolved, but reported an informal meeting will be held with trustees of the Tahoe – Truckee Unified School District and State Division of Highways representatives in Truckee Wednesday at 1:30 p.m.

Planning Director Justin F. Barber said the site, which is owned by C.K., W.E and J.B. McClatchy, is in an area where the state plans to build a parkway. Wednesday's meeting will attempt to work out realignment of the parkway route.

Chamber Pot-Shots:

By BETTY LAYTON

The Seattle Ski Fair was a big success, considering that the show was vieing for attendance next door to championship ice hockey on Thursday night, a Sergio Mendes concert on Friday night, and Glenn Yarbough and football on Saturday. It was surprising there were as many as anticipated, over 30,000 in attendance.

Stein Eriksen appeared in person at the show with a chalk-talk demonstration in skiing techniques and Art Furrer and Ruedi Wyrsch performed with their arobatics on a revolving artificial snow mountain, which is always a crowd pleaser.

A group of folk dancers added color to the scene with foot stomping dances in the afternoon and evening show.

The Ski Tahoe North booth was new this year, but we received lots of interest and know of many people who will be visiting our area and many others who will be using our reservation service this winter because of the show.

A new ski instructor at Incline this year, Dan Pottock, helped Slim Lickliter and Betty Layton with the long hours of manning the booth for the four-day show. The exhibit center where the show was held Oct. 24-28 is part of the complex of buildings which was erected for the world's fair and they are serving a great community role for activities in Seattle. The weather was beautiful with the exception of one day of rain which is a very good percentage for the northwest.

Ski Reno and Olympic Village Hotel both had booths at the show and the exposure of our area to the thousands of avid skiers from the Seattle area was well worth the efforts. We understand that teaching skiing in the rain isn't uncommon on the ski slopes close to Seattle, so we stressed sunshine and dry snow conditions in our area.

Our North Lake Tahoe booth will next go to the new sport and boat show at the Oakland Coliseum, Nov. 15-26. This will be promoting summer activities as well as the Ski Tahoe North program.

Our chamber office has received 140 return coupons from the Ski Tahoe North ad which was placed in the Los Angeles Times a week ago. The Ski Tahoe North brochures are being widely distributed in ski shops and travel agencies, as well as chamber of commerce offices throughout the state.

The State Chamber of Commerce advises us to vote "Yes" on all Propositions except No. 9.

U.S. Senator George Murphy, reported to president Dave Stollery in a letter received this week that "President Johnson has recently signed legislation which included a provision that the export of western logs in demand in this country be restricted to 350-million board feet per year for the next three years, beginning in January, 1969."

Senator Murphy further stated, "I feel sure that you will be pleased by this action and I want you to know that I appreciate your thoughtfulness in letting me know the views of the Greater North Lake Tahoe Chamber of Commerce on this matter."

"I am checking on the status of the Five Lakes Creek area above Squaw Valley insofar as its possible inclusion in the wilderness program is concerned, and as soon as I receive the information I have requested, I shall let you know."

Lane Sharman Reveals Marriage To Waunita Stone

Lane Sharman of Incline Village was married earlier this month to Waunita Stone. The ceremony was held in Seattle, Wash.

The newlyweds will be at home in their new residence at Northwood Estates, Incline, after Nov. 6.

Camp Ground Preparations Under Way

Donald Beardsley, resource forester for the Big Bend Ranger District of Tahoe National Forest, reported the recent cleanup of forest litter and debris to reduce the fire hazard and for human safety at the forest service's planned new Trap Creek Campground near Fuller Lake, in Nevada County, by inmate crews from the Hobart Mills conservation camps.

Beardsley said the inmates, under foreman Ben Grubbs of Truckee, are authorized to work on national forest land for fire protection and other purposes by contract with the California Department of Corrections and are assigned to the Hobart Camp from the California Conservation Center at Susanville.

The cleanup work is most effectively done by hand crews prior to construction so as to make the new campground site safer for use by recreationists, and to reduce the danger from rapidly spreading fire, according to Beardsley. He also stated that the new Trap Creek Campground will provide 45 family camping units for recreationists who may use and enjoy the Fuller Lake to Grouse Ridge Lakes country for fishing, hiking, hunting and camping.

The planned new campground will be reached via Highway 20 and the Bowman Lake Road.

Nevada County Tax Bills In The Mail

Nevada County Tax Collector Marcella J. Carson has announced all 1968/69 secured tax bills will be in the mail prior to November 1. Taxes are due and payable Nov. 1 with the first installment becoming delinquent Dec. 10, 1968, at 5 p.m. A 6 per cent penalty will be assessed after that. All taxes may be paid when the first installment is due if so desired.

Payments should be made either at the Tax Collector's Office, County Courthouse, Nevada City or by mail. The office is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. Mail payments will be accepted without penalty if postmarked Dec. 10, 1968.

Mrs. Carson offers some suggestions to assist her office in handling these tax bills, numbering more than 25,500! Be prompt in making your payment when due; don't delay if you have any questions concerning the bill; if you come to the Tax Collector's office or call by telephone, please have your tax bill in hand; if you own property in Nevada County and have not received a tax bill prior to Nov. 10, contact the office immediately.

Campfire Violation

Leslie Hamilton of Petaluma, was issued a Notice of Violation for an unattended campfire on September 22, in the Big Bend Ranger District of the Tahoe National Forest.

Mr. Hamilton forfeited bail of $125 which was set by Judge Verle Gray of the Nevada County Judicial Court, Nevada City.

Junior Women Will Stage Big Fashion Show

FASHION FUREBELOWS – Ingenuity is the key to the paper dress designed for Junior Women's Club fashion show and fashioned for 3-year-old Pamie Rodrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rodrick of Kings Beach. Sun Photo

A benefit "Fashions-A-Sew-Sew" champagne fashion show has been scheduled by Tahoe Sierra Junior Women's Club for Nov. 9 at 2 p.m. It will be held at Crystal Bay Club Lounge. Proceeds go to the Kings Beach Recreation Project.

Show chairman Mrs. Richard Clarey said the display of home sewn clothing for children and adults will be commentated with pattern number and costs in the to make something for themselves.

An added fun feature will be originally designed paper dresses. Members are designing fashions from a variety of "materials" including gayly colored "boutique" toilet paper, tissue paper, paper towel, wrapping paper and newspapers.

Youngsters from Leon School of the Dance at Incline will provide intermission entertainment.

Mrs. Ron Nebeker, who is in charge of models, said members, their sons and daughters and 4-H youngsters will model. Mrs. Robert Clark is in charge of decorations for the event.

Tickets for the show may be obtained at the door or from Mrs. Charles Rodrick, Mrs. William Dowling and Mrs. Cliff Frazier.

At a meeting last week at the home of club President Mrs. William Dowling, the Junior Women's Club district president was a special guest. New member Jomayne Egan was welcomed.

Members who volunteered to make cancer dressings were Mrs. Ron Cameron, Mrs. Robert Woolf and Mrs. Charles Rodrick. It was announced anyone wanting to help will be welcome. The project is conducted the second Thursday of each month at Kings Beach School, 8:30 a.m.

Incline District Election Also Set For November 5

Voters of the Incline Village General Improvement District will go to the polls Tuesday, Nov. 5, during the General Election, to pick five district directors.

The polls will open at 7 a.m. at the Incline Elementary School and close at 7 p.m.

The entire board is up for election because all five incumbents were seated by appointment. The top three vote getters will win four-year terms, the two others will get two-year terms.

To be eligible, voters must be residents of the district for six months. The voter need not be registered to vote in the general election to be eligible.

Candidates are George Sayre, general contractor; Roger Howard, deputy sheriff; Howard Smith, telephone company executive; Clarence Herda, retired insurance exectutive and Dave Auandt, condominium apartment manager.

The new board's first job will be to face decisions on a $2-3 million plant expansion and sewage export program.

Howard Smith, board secretary said the election board will include Geraldine Cross, Rev. David Graham, Louise White, David May and Ruby Weaver.

A sixth candidate, Bruce Preston, has withdrawn from the race because he believed his employment with Incline Village, Inc., might be interpreted as a conflict of interest. The incumbent board was constituted to eliminate any conflict of interest with the Crystal Bay Development Co., which was this year taken over by Incline Village, Inc.

Bank Offers Special Album

A special album of Christmas music performed by leading recording artists may be obtained at Local Bank of America Branches.

Specially recorded for the bank by RCA, the stereo record is valued at $4.95, but is being sold at the bank for $1.00. It will be available beginning on Tuesday, November 5.

In making the announcement today, Hal Silva, Manager of Truckee Branch noted, "The record can be played on monaural equipment as well as on a stereo player."

Entitled "Christmas in California," the album features such names as Vic Damone, Al Hirt, Ed Ames, Henry Mancini, the Robert Shaw Chorale, Harry Belafonte and Leontyne Price.

The songs range from such traditional carols as "O Little Town of Bethlehem" to "Here Comes Santa Claus."

"Offering such an exceptional value is one way of showing our appreciation to our customers," Silva said. "However, since the records will probably sell quickly, they're available on a first-come, first-served basis."

Nevada Action Urged On Bi-State Agency

RENO — Elmo DeRicco, director of the Nevada Department of Conservation and Natural Resources, told Washoe County Commissioners that they need all their horses ready to run when they deal with California.

The statement was made by DeRicco when he and Ivan Sack, retired supervisor of the Toiyabe National Forest and Nevada's at-large member of the bi-state planning agency, appeared before the commissioners to urge them to name Washoe County's representative on the proposed bi-state California – Nevada Regional Planning Agency.

The agency was authorized by legislatures of both states to guard against possible pollution of the waters of Lake Tahoe and prevent over-development of the lake basin.

Gov. Paul Laxalt has urged commissioners of Douglas, Ormsby and Washoe counties to select their appointees so planning can begin even before Congress gives its consent to the California – Nevada compact and the agency becomes operative.

Laxalt has set a meeting for the commissioners, planning commissioners and boards of adjustment members of each of the three counties for Nov. 16 in Carson City so he can explain just what is planned for the agency.

Sack told commissioners high density development at high elevations has highly unusual problems. "We have to research roads which can be used as escape routes in case of fire, proper design for snow removal, clearing the land properly to prevent erosion and other problems not present in flat-land development.

Auxiliary Reception

Members of the Tahoe-Forest Hospital Junior Auxiliary and their mothers were honored last week at a reception held at the hospital.

Mrs. Schuyler W. Miles, auxiliary president and Mrs. Doris Lucchesi, junior auxiliary advisor, welcomed the group. Superintendent of Nurses Mrs. Gertrude Gilson thanked the girls for their services. Mrs. Robert Tonini, coffee shop chairman explained duties the youthful volunteers perform in that area.

A tour of the hospital conducted by Miss Martha Williams, R. N. climaxed the evening's activities. Miss Williams will be in charge of the juniors on volunteer duty at the hospital.

The juniors, or Candy Stripers, volunteer services in the hospital and coffee shop as well as help decorate for holidays and prepare tray favors.

Prevent Foam

To keep down the foam when cooking dried beans, add a tablespoon of butter, margarine or salad (not olive) oil for each cup of the beans.

Approve Use Permit For Union Oil

A special use permit for a Union Oil Service Station at Incline Village was approved during a recent meeting in Reno of the Washoe County Board of Adjustment.

The station is slated for the northwest corner of Tahoe Blvd. and Northwood Blvd.

The Board rejected a request by George R. Campbell for a brightly lighted sign at 457 Lake Shore Blvd. in Crystal Bay. Members noted the sign was on the lake side of the highway and would tend to deface the scenic beauty of the area.

Recommendations of the Board of Adjustment are made to the Washoe County commissioners. Final decision on granting or denying permit applications will be made by commissioners at their next meeting Oct. 15.

Tahoe Squaws Celebrate Tenth Anniversary With Party

First president Mrs. Tom Wisdom helped the Tahoe Squaws celebrate their tenth anniversary Wednesday, Oct. 23. Mrs. Wisdom was awarded an honorary life membership by club president Mrs. Lee Van Wetter during a dinner at Bacci's Restaurant.

A cocktail party was held prior to the dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pope at Dollar Point. Past presidents introduced and given corsages were Mesdames Wisdom, James Brehler, Ric Giannini, Bill Briner, Jack Franklin, Neil Gates, and Dean Ormsby.

Former members of long standing were also introduced. They are: Pat Fox, Ros English, Mesdames Guy Wilson, Peter Johnson, Wendell Russell Norm Wilson, Ted Lewis, Ron Mathewson, Courtland Parker, Ron McIntire William Collins, Jean La Gras, Dave McBride.

Mrs. Joseph Q. Joynt, membership chairman, introduced new members Mesdames Skip Sherman, Tom Keating, Jack Sheehan, Larry Wellings, Don Felich and Linda Moore.

Members were surprised when former member Mrs. William Hunter, Bacci owner, presented the group a decorated birthday cake holding ten candles.

Forfeit Bail In Trout Over-Limit

Bail was forfeited last week by Jerry R. Schaffer, dean of students and Professor Robert D. Lemmon, both of Merced College when they failed to appear in Plumas County District Court on a charge of possession of an over-limit of trout.

The two fisherman were cited Oct. 6 by California Fish and Game Warden Terry Hickman who found 50 fish in their possession. Hickman returned the legal limit of 10 fish for each person and seized the remaining 30 trout for evidence.

Schaffer and Lemmon forfeited $25 each when they did not appear to face charges.

Estimated Taxes Due October 31

The deadline for estimated payment on 1968 California personal income tax is October 31, warns Martin Huff, executive officer, California Franchise Tax Board.

Statements for taxes totaling $279 million were mailed to almost 400,000 taxpayers early this month. These include single and married taxpayers whose 1967 tax liability exceeded $400 and married persons filing separately and reporting more than $200 tax. Anyone whose 1967 tax was less than these amounts need not file.

As the returns come in, Huff said, it is apparent that a number of taxpayers are confused about the requirements and the basis for the billing.

The partial payment is for the current (1968) tax year, the balance of the payment being due next April 15, Huff explained. Alternative methods of determining the amount to be paid are provided. Those whose taxable income for 1968 will be equal to or more than their income for 1967 should pay an amount equal to one-half of their 1967 liability as shown on the bill received. Those whose taxable income for 1968 is expected to be substantially less than for 1967 should compute the tax estimated to be due for 1968 and pay one-half of this amount if the total exceeds $400.

There will be cases, the executive officer said, where taxpayers have a liability, but do not receive a bill from the department. These include taxpayers granted the maximum extension for filing, deliquent taxpayers, some married taxpayers who filed separately and some taxpayers whose addresses have changed. Filing and payment is required whether a bill is received or not.

"It is the taxpayer's responsibility to file and pay the estimate if he meets the conditions established by law," Huff said.

Danny Hitchcock Is Graduated

Denver – Airman Danny L. Hitchcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hitchcock, Incline Village, Nev., has been graduated from a U.S. Air Force technical school at Lowry AFB, Colo.

The airman, an Air National Guardsman, was trained as a materiel specialist and has been assigned to a California ANG unit at Hayward.

New Instrumental-Vocal Duo Entertain At The Chataux

The cheery glow of a pine log fire and the big heart throb sound of a top U.S. instrumental-vocal duo is the one, two people pleasing punch featured by the Incline Chataux country club restaurant, in its fall opening kickoff this week.

Snatched from the swinging Port St. Lucie Country Club, Forida, where the golf season is hitting its stride with the U.S. Pro-Am, were Libby and Ronnie Campa. This talented team turns out more music with its combination of voice duet, piano, organ and strings than the usual eight-piece orchestra.

The Campa duo becomes part of a place, as they reach out and strike responsive chords in their dancing and listening audience. They spent 10 months at the Florida club and before that held a steadily growing group of fans for 10 months at Wagon Wheels, famed Rockton, Ill. club where there are seven lounge shows going all the time.

"We feel out the audience and play what they like," said Libby Campa.

They feature complete contrast from romance to rock, satisfying young or old. They don't stop at English lyrics, either, slipping easily into German, French, Spanish, Italian, German and even Greek ballads.

As winter snow starts to fall at 6,350 feet high Incline, the crackling warmth of the big Chataux fireplace, mulled wine for the apres ski crew will be bolstered with lilting Alpine melodies.

Libby, who has the normal number of hands (count 'em) but is hard to believe when you hear a piano, organ and drums going at once, while Ronnie comes in with a throbbing electric bass.

Their big sound goes with the big Chataux, where community leaders meet for lunch, then come back in the evening to dance and dine in the warmth and music drenched atmosphere.

Big Community Nursery School Ski Swap This Saturday At Alpine Meadows Lodge

All is in readiness for the fifth annual SWAP of the North Tahoe community Nursery School which will be held on Saturday, November 2nd at Alpine Meadows Lodge from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. All proceeds from the SWAP, including an admission charge of 50 cents per adult and 25 cents per child over five will go to the Nursery School for equipment and scholarships.

There will be many attractions at the SWAP, but most of all it will be an opportunity to obtain good, usable ski wear and equipment for all family needs as well as an opportunity to sell outgrown ski wear. Other attractions include displays showing new ski area facilities.

The Grab Bag will feature fabulous prizes ranging from season ski passes, free ski lessons, midweek motel-ski packages at local resorts, dinners to boot laces and ski wax.

Pre-registration of articles to be sold will be held on Friday, November 1st from 5 to 9 p.m, and on Saturday from 9 a.m. to 12 noon only.

Refreshments and soft drinks

Cranston Here

Allan Cranston, Democratic candidate for United States Senator will be honored at a cocktail party to be held at the Squaw Valley Lodge on Friday, November 1st from 7 to 9 p.m. Speaking on his behalf will be George Musconi, a member of the State Senate from San Francisco. Also in attendance will be Dick Sorenson, chairman of the Northern California Democratic Council, and Dick Azevedo, chairman of the Placer County Democratic Council.

The affair is being sponsored by the Placer County Democratic Council and everyone is invited to attend the no-host cocktail party (with hors d'oevres "on the house"). Admission is $2.50 per person.

Paoli Realizes The Problems, and Recognizes The Potential, At Tahoe

Having represented various portions of the Lake Tahoe area during his terms as supervisor, Frank Paoli is well aware of the needs of the lake, which is situated so far from the Placer County seat.

Early in his career as a supervisor, Paoli attracted attention of Tahoe residents when he fought to see that Tahoe received its fair share of road funds.

With this assured he was able to provide many improvements to county roads in the Lake Tahoe area.

SHORT CUT

He then concentrated on the Truckee Short-Cut and by bringing that roadway up to State requirements, the road was accepted by the state, a move which has helped the North Tahoe area by quickly shuttling traffic from I-80 to that portion of the Lake.

Realizing that Tahoe residents were considerably inconvenienced by having to make the long trip to Auburn in order to conduct county business, Paoli placed himself firmly behind a move to create a County Administration Center at Tahoe.

The establishment of a Sheriff's Sub Station at Tahoe also came about during Paoli's term and provided another valuable service for Lake Tahoe residents.

40 FREEWAY

Paoli was on the first committee which journeyed to Utah in a successful effort to promote four-laning of Highway 40.

Of considerable benefit to Lake Tahoe, the present highway was constructed after long months of conferences with federal and state officials in which Paoli played a major role.

"The assessed valuation at Tahoe is high," said Paoli. "For too long," he added, "that portion of the county, which is one of Placer's proudest possessions, was virtually ignored by the 'powers that be' in Auburn."

"I have consistently supported the Lake and fully realize the potential there."

Lake Tahoe and Fallen Leaf Lake wore the gorgeous colors of Fall last Sunday when we made the trip around the lake. The beauties of the season were an added pleasure as the trip was to see the Kokanee salmon run up Taylor Creek. This spectacular of nature was beyond our expectations. The U. S. Forest Service Stream Profile Chamber gives observers a close view of the truly brilliant red salmon and the changes—hooked jaws and humped backs of the males – it undergoes during the spawning. It is a not–to–be–missed occurance.

Among the many hundred of visitors seen were Jacquie and Ed Black of Incline Beach and Fritzi and Bill Briner and sons of Homewood.

Cal–Neva Lodge building plans as projected by the new owners can be viewed by interested persons at the hearing of the Washoe County Commissioners November 5 at the County Court House in Reno. In our opinion these plans are delightful – conservation of trees, a building harmonious to the area, underground parking, arrangement for sewage to be removed from the area, and contrary to "high rise" rumors, the new construction would not be much higher than the present building because of the steep downslope on which Cal Neva rests. Parking areas would be beautified and not excessive due to underground handling, and almost five million dollars will insure the success of this enterprise with a aim to added beauty.

Secretary
By Sharon L. Mahaffey,
Clerk to the Planning
Commission
October 30, 1968. s/s

The return to elegance; grand entertainment, gourmet food, warm hospitality from a friendly operation are the aims of Warren Nelson, John Kavanaugh, Kack Douglass, Leon Nightingale, A. Tolen and Howard Farris, all Reno residents. Our best wishes for the success of the new venture.

* * *

Jack Douglass was a Cal Neva visitor over the weekend from his Reno home. He and his wife, Barbara, have four sons, David and Don, who are students at Our Lady of the Snows, John who is a Reno banker, and Bill, who is a professor at the University of Nevada, being a doctor of anthropology with the Desert Research Institute. Professor Douglass is a conservationist, reflecting the views of the entire family.

* * *

Loyd Nolan and wife were weekend guest at the North Shore Club. The Nolans vacationed at Yosemite before coming to enjoy their sojourn at Lake Tahoe.

The well known TV and moving picture personality was warmly received.

* * *

Singer–actor Robert Goulet, who was appearing at the South Shore Room, was a visitor to the North Shore area last week. Object of his visit was to inspect his property on Mt. Rose. He and his party had lunch at the Chataux before their departure.

Ruth and Dick Lavery of Crystal Bay and Dick's brother, John, of Sacramento, are spending a month in Mexico, hunting, fishing and relaxing. And, as if that were not enuf, after their return they plan a trip to the Orient!

* * *

The Republican Women's Club of Incline and Crystal Bay are proud that Joy Plunkett, their president, Joyce Anderson and Dora Mae Jakobson toured northeast Nevada with the Ladies for Fike last week. Fallon, Eureka, Austin, Carlin, Battle Mountain, Lovelock Imlay, and Winnemucca were visited by the Ladies for Fike who knocked on every door!

* * *

Janet and Ralph Yopp and children, Loni, J. C. and Jimmy of Reno joined parents, Inez and J. C. Jordan, at the North Shore Club for dinner Saturday night. The occasion was Janet's birthday – October 26.

The home of Dee White at Incline Village was the scene of a bridal shower for Jackie Barnhill daughter of Barbara and Jack Barnhill of Incline Village.

Guests who enjoyed refreshments following the shower were Betty Facciolla, Myrtle Facciolla, Lee Cunningham, Judy Ebert, Marian Hanlon, Gem Herda, Irma Poirier, Bernie Lake, Marlene McCourry, Melinda Santosousso, Virginia Hill, Denise Elliott, Carol Boganes, and Karen Malley.

* * *

The weeding of Jacqueline Barnhill and Thomas Hanlon was solemnized at the Presbyterian Church Saturday, October 26, at a two o'clock ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

For her wedding, the birde wore a white net gown with appliqued embroidered train, a headdress beaded with pearls, and carried a boquet of white roses.

The maid of honor, Lisa Hahn of Freemont, chose a pink gown with shocking pink headdress and accessories and carried a boquet of matching roses.

The matron of honor, Carol Boganes of Incline wore a shocking pink gown with pink accessories, headress and matching roses.

The flower girl was four–year–old Jennifer Smith in a pink dress with daisy trim, carrying a basket of carnations.

The bride's mother wore a beige dress with gold lame trim and accessories, a beige satin hat and a yellow orchid corsage.

The Groom's mother chose blue chiffon with a blue and pearl headdress and a lavender orchid corsage.

Best man was John Nordstrom of Brockway and ushers were Mathew Barnhill, brother of the bride, and William Terry Hanlon of Alameda. Ring bearer was young Mark Lealtad of Carson City.

The bride is the daughter of Barbara and Jack Barnhill of Incline and the groom is the son of Marian and William Hanlon of Incline.

A reception was held at the Chataux with 300 guests. After a honeymoon in the San Francisco area the young couple will make their home at Brockway.

* * *

Out of town guests at the Barnhill home were her aunt, Mrs. Ruth McCurdy of Glendale, her cousin and wife, Cherie and Stan McGrath of Sacramento, Helen and Ward Mitchell of Freemont and Barbara and Paul Hahn of Freemont.

* * *

Cal Carey and wife of Los Angeles were weekend guests of Lynn Armstrong at the Tahoe Racquet Club. Carey is publisher of Club and Sports magazine. He is doing an article for the magazine on the club.

* * *

Wes Howell of Incline Village is on a pack–in trip at Yosemite for his week's vacation.

* * *

Betty and Carl Ulhorn and children, Dana and Heidi, of Incline Village enjoyed a visit from Carl's parents, Lola and Carl Ulhorn of Manson, Washington, this past week. The Senior Ulhorns are touring the western states after his retirement from Chelan Reclamation District.

H. A. "Chip" Steadman of Aukland, New Zealand, was a houseguest of Marjorie and Lewis Lionvale this past two weeks, and to the Lee Burges of Brockway. This was his first visit to Nevada, Lake Tahoe, Virginia City, Pyramid Lake, and Carson City. Chip is a barrister in New Zealand and was quite smitten with Nevada.

The Lionvales will accompany him to Vancouver, B.C. for a visit before his departure for home. They also plan a January trip on the President Cleveland to the Orient and New Zealand.

* * *

Pearl and Ted Draney, daughter, Marlea Tamblyn and her son, Joe, of Incline Beach spent a couple of days last week touring Columbia, Jackson and Yosemit.

In the mail bag: Thanks to former Kings Beach resident, Margaret Olinghouse, for news of her family which is well known in the area. A clipping from the Bermuda Skyliner was enclosed which we quote: "Through accurate financial analysis and critical forecasting, Lieutenant John Olinghouse was personally responsible for reducing $24,–600 from the FY1966 equipment budget, while meeting all mission essential equipment requirements during the year. He is also centra base fund custodian and responsible for the annual budget of over $150,000 for non–appropriated funds.

He received his bachelor's degree in business management from the University of Oklahoma in 1965. He is married to the former Nancy Conneff of Dallas Texas. He attended Tahoe Truckee High School.

* * *

The Olinghouse's daughter, Carolyn and Alan Birk are home on a thirty–day Navy leave from Norwich, Conn, with their year old baby daughter, Leah Marlene.

Mary Margaret, now 18, is enrolled at Northeastern A and M Jr. College at Miami, Oklahoma. She is taking ageneral course of teacher training.

Margaret operated a beauty salon in Kings Beach for several years prior to moving to Oaklahoma City. The photo of son, John, shows a handsome mansorry it can't be reproduced for the paper.

Many thanks, Margaret.

Dr. James Black To Join Hospital

Arnold Intorf, administrator at Tahoe–Forest Hospital has announced Dr. James Black of Sioux City, Iowa will join the medical staff about the middle of November.

Dr. Black, an orthopedic surgeon has been practicing in Sioux City since 1952 and was on the staff of several hospitals there. A native of Lodi, Calif., he is a graduate of the University of the Pacific and received his medical degree from Creighton University, Omaha, Neb.

The surgeon is married and has four children. The family will reside in Squaw Valley.

Laxalt, Businessmen On Promotion Tour

RENO – Gov. Paul Laxalt left this week for North Carolina leading a large group of Nevada businessmen whose purpose is to describe the state's industrial advantages and business opportunities.

Laxalt will discuss Nevada business advantages to nearly 100 furniture companies located in the South. The trip is planned to last six days.

Once the trip is concluded Western Industrial Nevada will have gone to a great deal of time and money to persuade the leaders of the southern furniture firms to choose Nevada as the most favorable location for their product and organization in the western consumer market.

Clark Russell, director of the Department of Economic Development for Nevada, said these trips provides Nevada with an excellent opportunity of following up on the many inquires to the state's on–going industry advertising program in the Wall Street Journal.

He also noted that Laxalt has sent personal letters of invitation to industrial firms in the United States to visit Nevada.

TV Cable Firm Called By Board

Tahoe Systems of Kings Beach has been asked to appear Nov. 6 before the Placer County supervisors and show cause why their cable television license should not be revoked.

County supervisors requested the "show cause" action after numerous complaints had been received indicating the cable television firm has not lived up to agreements to furnish cable service on the West Shore or in areas off the highway at Tahoe City except at Lake Forest.

Governor's Mansion Scene Of United Nations Day Tea

A United Nations Day Tea will be given Saturday at the Governor's Mansion in Carson City, sponsored by the Nevada League of Women Voters.

The Tea will honor the 125 citizens naturalized in Nevada since the first of the year and 80 foreign students, who represent about 30 countries, now attending the University of Nevada.

The League supports the United Nations because the United Nations is a pioneer in the field of international cooperation. And like any pioneer, it has found progress more difficult in some areas than in others.

Nevertheless, the world body has gained worldwide acceptance as an indispensable element in today's world and now continues in many ways to expand the frontiers of international cooperative endeavor.

A Man Who Will Fight!
1. For better medical care through better hospital administration.
2. To protect the financial interest of the taxpayer and promote conservative expenditures.
3. To have an open medical staff encouraging more doctors to live and practice in this area.
4. To encourage local people to usethis hospital instead of going elsewhere.
It is a fact that five qualified doctors, licensed in California, in the past two years have been blocked from using these public hospital facilities and went elsewhere rather than try to practice without the use of the hospital. This monopoly must be stopped.

WE'RE SEARCHING THE TAHOE AREA FOR A MAN . . .

Frankly, it may take months to find him. But we're willing to wait . . . the opportunity is that important.

Here's a quick "profile" of the person we're looking for. Education . . . college or equivalent. In all likelihood, he's making good progress. But he has a problem. He knows he's capable of doing better feels "trapped" by a salary structure which is good, but not good enough.

If you fit this general description, we'd be happy to talk to you about this salaried opening in our organization. It may require several interviews . . . will certainly require exhaustive tsts. But should you turn out to be the man we are looking for . . . we can promise it will be well worth your time and trouble.

To pursue the matter further, write a letter outlining your business experience, age, marital status. (If you prefer, call Mr. Maas, (916) 544-6185.)

West Shore Notes

Well underway on their second year of the great books program is a group of readers who meet twice monthly at the libraries of the Tahoe Truckee High School and Tahoe Lake School. The group, under the leadership of high school librarian Roy Baker, meets on Thursday evenings. A recent guest was an ordained Buddhist monk, Fred Whittle of Australia, who has studied in Australia, England and Burma and who is presently touring the United States.

At the last meeting, the great book-ers discussed Aristotle's "Ethics" and at the next meeting, to be held on November 7 at the High School, the discussion will be on Shakespeare's "Hamlet."

Among those who attend the meetings are Hilda Hintz, Shirley Williams, Blyth Scott, Chick McBride, Dottie Intorf, Carole Onorato, Evelyn Alexander, Ametta Firpo, Claudia Loynd, Ruth Taylor, Laura Wilson, Stephanie Anderson, Nancy Crose, Majel Rose, Mary Wolert and Doris Anderson.

Anyone interested is invited to join the group.

More than fifty aspiring junior ski racers are participating in pre-season ski training program of the Lake Tahoe Ski Club which is being held every Saturday and Sunday at various outdoor locations in the Tahoe City area. The training is being given under the direction of Osvaldo Ancinas, head coach for the Lake Tahoe Ski Club's alpine program; Bud Jones, competition director for the club; and Max Bauer, who is new to the program this year. Bauer, who learned skiing in his native Austria, comes to the club with a wealth of experience in skiing and teaching skiing and was assistant director of the junior program last year at Heavenly Valley.

The coaches are unanimous in feeling that the junior squad has great national championship potention. Training with the squad is Cheryl Bechdolt, was national junior girls' champion last year, who is now a member of the United States senior "B" team. Eric Poulsen of Squaw Valley, who is still eligible to be a junior racer, will be tracing the senior circuit this year and is training with the Bear Valley Ski Club.

Date Set For Hearing

The Nevada County Board of Supervisors has set Nov. 12 at 11 a.m. as the date for a public hearing on a resolution which would change the name of old Highway 40 from Kingvale on Donner Summit to Bridge Street in Truckee to Donner Pass Road. The meeting will be held during a session of the board in Nevada City.

For several months the issue of naming this section of the old highway has been controversial and the Nevada County Planning Commission recently held a meeting in Truckee to air the subject. Because of lack of local interest, the commission decided to leave the name, Emigrant Way to designate the route from Truckee to Donner Lake and from there to Kingvale to let it be known as Donner Pass Road.

However, the supervisors asked that the entire stretch, a distance of approximately 12 miles, be under one designation and the name Donner Pass Road was adopted by the board.

Since the name of Emigrant Way has been adopted for the main street in Truckee as well as in Gateway Park the construction of the freeway, residents and business people along the street voiced disapproval of the name selected by the board and are expected to protest at the public hearing next month.

A number of names have been suggested for the route which runs through sections of Placer as well as Nevada County and the most frequently mentioned is Emigrant Way and there is an indication that no change of the established name, particularly as it relates to the Truckee-Donner area, will be made.

Anthrax Noted In Nevada Area

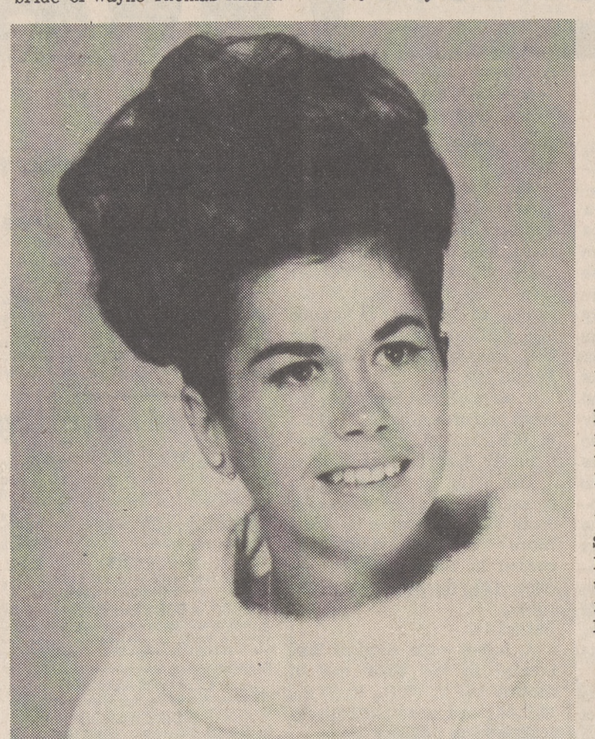
GARDNERVILLE– An outbreak of anthrax has been reported near here by Lee Burge, executive director of Nevada State Department of Agriculture, who termed the case an "isolated incident."

A herd of cattle was vaccinated and confined after the anthrax diagnosis was made in the animals.

Jacqueline Louise Barnhill Becomes Bride Of Wayne Thomas Hamlin

Jacqueline Louise Barnhill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barnhill of Incline, became the bride of Wayne Thomas Hanlon last Saturday. Hanlon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hanlon, also of Incline.

Rev. Al Fry officiated at the 3 o'clock formal rites held at Incline Village Community Presybyterian Church.



The bride carried a bouquet of white roses as she was escorted to the alter by her father. Her floor length cage gown of embroidered peau de soi bore a train. She wore a fingertip illusion veil enhanced by pearls.

Maid of honor was Lisa Hahn of Fremont, Calif. while Mrs. Arie Bogannis of Incline was matron of honor. Jeffifer Smith was flower girl and Mark Lealtad was ring bearer. Best man for the bridegroom was John Nordstrom. Mathew Barnhill and William Hanlon were ushers.

Some 300 guest attended the wedding and reception held at the Chateax immediately following the ceremony. The bridal pair left for a honeymoon in the Bay Area and will make a home at Brockway, Lake Tahoe.

Mrs. Hanlon is a graduate of Wooster High School in Reno. She attended the University of Nevada. Her bridegroom attended American River College in California. He is employed at Incline by Boise-Cascade.

AT HOME IN BROCKWAY – Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thomas Hanlon who were married last Saturday.

PROMOTION – The appointment of Mrs. Pamela Rose as branch manager of Incline Village office of First Commercial Title, Inc., has been announced by Alan Brunet, senior vice president and general manager. Mrs. Rose has been with the title company for five years in both the title and escrow work. For the last year she has been escrow officer at the Incline office. Mr. Brunet said the new manager will be responsible for administration of an enlarged staff to service the North Lake Tahoe area.

Reno Officer Rex Clark Addresses Incline Class

Officer Rex Clark of the Reno Police Department was speaker last week to students in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades at Incline School.

A safety educational officer, Clark explained what the student crossing guards are supposed to do.

"Your main object is getting the youngsters across the street safely, not to direct traffic," he said.

"Wait until there is a break in traffic."

He also emphasized the crossing guards are supposed to operate from the sides of the street, not get out in the middle.

Clark distributed safety patrol handbooks to those students on guard duty. The book delineates in detail and with pictures, complete instructions for crossing guards.

Information Being Mailed

Joy Plunkett, president of Republican Women of Crystal Bay and Incline Village, has announced the group is mailing to voters a detailed, research information on questions appearing on the Nov. 5 ballot.

"We have explained the meaning of the terminology in the questions and have consulted authorities on the pros and cons of each question," said Mrs. Plunkett.

"This is not just a partisan activity, it is a public service so people can vote more intelligently on these things."

Mrs. Plunkett said voters can expect the information in the mail this week.

Set Fishing Regulations

The California Fish and Game Commission meets in Redding Friday, Nov. 1 to discuss proposed angling regulations for 1969.

Commission President William P. Elser announced the meeting will begin at 10 a.m. in the Multi-Purpose Room, Third Floor, New Annex, Courthouse.

The commission will consider recommendations for 1969 sportfishing rules and will announce the regulations it intends to adopt. Final adoption of next year's regulations will be at a meeting in Los Angeles Dec. 6.

Other items on the agenda include reports by the Department of Fish and Game on progress on the warm water hatchery in Imperial County, the status of the Salton Sea and a report on anchovy landings.

The commission also will consider awarding a lease to harvest five tons of edible kelp in Tomales Bay and terms to be contained in bids for an exclusive lease for kelp bed #4.

Tahoe Forest Hospital "Quiet Room" Readied

Members of the Ministers' Association of North Tahoe and the Tahoe – Forest Hospital Auxiliary have announced the new "Quiet Room" at the hospital is nearing completion. The new room will be available to all persons at any time they might need it.

Volunteers working on the project said part of the Doctors Lounge is being screened off and an altar is under construction to be placed in this area. Carol Jones has donated the remaining funds in the Bobby Jones Memorial Fund for appropriate candle holders and other incidentals. Anyone else wishing to make donations may contact the hospital administrator Arnold Intorf or any auxiliary member.

The seven ministers in the MANT are on call to go to the hospital at any time. During the day each one is on call, he visits patients at the hospital even when not called.

Kids Preparing For Big Halloween Celebration Tomorrow

All Please Rise For The Annual Shakedown

By Carl Briggs
SUN EDITOR

"From ghoulies and ghosties and long–leggety beasties, and things that go bump in the night, Good Lord deliver us."

Perhaps the oddest of all celebrations observed by people anywhere, especially in this enlightened Republic, is Halloween, the annual oldtime opry of October occultism.

It is the time of horrible laughter echoing in the darkness of terror under a crescent moon, of shivery apparitions and cackling witches. Halloween belongs to Satan, allegedly celebrating his Satanic Majesty's birthday. He's the oldest known deity and we might all pause to wish him particularly bad luck tomorrow, which is approximately his thirty–thousandth birthday.

Halloween these days, of course, is a watered–down version of what it used to be, this disclaimer itself having become a truism handed down from generation to generation. Just ask your daddy what Halloween was like when HE was a kid. The 10 per cent truth of his tales multiplied by 30,000 will give you some idea.

Thursday is the night, then that the youngsters practice the hideous rite of "Trickertree," an onerous form of parentally approved blackmail, and we can all look forward to an invasion of our planet by a selection of hobgoblins, gnomes, madmen, ghosts, trolls, gunslingers, spooks, skeletons, plain goblins, crooks, monsters, finks, ghouls, elves, bad guys, idiots, witches, devils, highwaymen, evil princesses, zombies, villains, dwarfs. werewolves, commie rats, unicorns, mummies, clowns, toads, robbers, and a probable assortment of batmen and robins, beatles, and hippies that will dazzle the eye not to mention strain the credibility.

They'll not tip over your outhouse any more, or soap your windows, or stuff potatoes in your auto exhaust pipe, or lean open garbage cans against your front door (getting some ideas, kids?), or stick pins in your doorbell button, or rattle a spool on your windows, or hang your gate up in a tree, or throw tomatoes at you . . . but you'd better have a supply of edible payola on hand when they call out "Trickertree," just in case, although at the current price of candy, nuts, and other goodies, the decision is not an easy one. I wonder what some of those wee bunny–clad leprechauns would do if you told them to go ahead and play a trick.

Now, when I was a kid . . .

Safety Measures For Kids On Halloween

Parents are urged to put some thought into the selection and preparation of Halloween costumes for their children to make sure they are not exposing the youngsters to needless danger.

The California State Automobile Association says that children who wear dark costumes or ill–fitting masks on Halloween may be in danger of accidents.

When crossing streets, youngsters wearing dark costumes are especially hard for motorists to see. Poorly–fitted masks partially obscure the youngster's vision and make it difficult for him to see oncoming traffic.

The AAA motoring organization urges parents to check the following suggestions which will help keep their children out of danger:

1. Masks should fit properly so that the child can see well; 2. Loose fitting hoods that completely cover the face should be avoided; 3. The costume should include some white or light–colored cloth or, better yet, some strips of reflective material; 4. The costume should not be so long that it might trip the child; 5. Younger children should be escorted by parents.

And motorists are cautioned to be extra alert for the youngsters as they go on their trick or treat rounds.

Three Cleffs At Nevada Lodge

Three fellows with a big sound open Tuesday night at North Lake Tahoe's Nevada Lodge, providing dusk–'til–dawn entertainment for patrons of North Lake Tahoe's largest year–round resort hotel casino.

The Three Cleffs first crashed the show business scene in Phoenix some four years ago . . . and since then have played leading clubs throughout the southest. This is their first engagement at Nevada Lodge, though they are no strangers to the Nevada circuit.

Bill Murray, Richard Hall and Bill Montague compose the trio, and they present a wide repertoire ranging from contemporary hits to standards of decades back. Drums, piano, guitar, clarinet and saxaphones produce the instrumental sounds, and the Three Cleffs contribute rousing vocals also.

The Three Cleffs are slated to appear at Nevada Lodge through November 24. Closing this weekend after a two weeks engagement are Joe Val and the Val Aires.

Reno Banker Knocks Lottery Plan

The head of Nevada's largest banking institution said today the lottery plan which will appear on the November 5 ballot is a "frightening thing for every taxpayer in Nevada."

Arthur M. Smith, Jr., of Reno, president and chairman of the board of First National Bank of Nevada, said the lottery plan could bring destruction of the entire gaming industry through federal intervention.

"And that would mean disaster for Nevada, of course. First, we would be faced with a depression through the loss of our major industry. But, also, we would find ourselves, those of us outside gaming, having to pick up the immense tax bite now met by that industry and the businesses it supports," Smith said.

The banking head said the worst feature of the lottery plan was that which would give its promoters an exclusive 10–year franchise to operate it. "We license such people as William Harrah, Del Webb, Howard Hughes, for a few months at a time only, constantly reviewing and checking their operations. These people want ten years with absolutely no chance for the governor nor the gaming control agencies nor anyone to change the situation no matter what they do. Only another constitutional amendment, another three years, could undo the situation," Smith said.

"Meanwhile, whatever damage they might be doing to the state could be compounded over and over because, even if we had federal intervention into our gaming industry because of some act of the lottery people, we Nevadans would still have no power to stop them. What they were doing, no matter how damaging, would be 'constitutional' under the Nevada law."

Smith urged every businessman and particularly every lawyer in the state to join in a campaign to inform the voters of the danger of the proposed amendment. "Who better than lawyers should be able to see and explain the hazards which it would bring. It would be the highest public service for all such Nevadans to join in a fight to defeat this," he said.

Inspect New Snowplay Site Near Yuba Gap

Tahoe National Forest Supervisor Hank Branagh announced that the new winter sport snowplay site is being planned for the Yuba Gap area on Interstate 80, 75 miles east of Sacramento. The site is on National Forest and Pacific Gas and Electric Company land. Developments will consist of toboggan runs, lodge facilities and snowmobile courses.

Pacific Gas and Electric, representatives and District Ranger Dick Austin of the Big Bend District of the Tahoe National Forest, will meet with interested developers at the Yuba Gap Interchange at 10 a.m. Friday, November 1 for a show–me tour of the site.

Bids for development of the site will be received jointly in March, 1969, by the Forest Service and Pacific Gas and Electric Company for the expected $130,000 construction. In contrast to the many winter sports developments of the Forest Service for skiing, this site will cater to toboggan and snowmobile and saucer riders. Being in the heavy snowfall area of the western Sierras, this site will be useable throughout the normal skiing season. Developers will enter into lease arrangements with the Forest Service and Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

Spooks Gather In SquawValley

PLUTO AND MICKEY MOUSE – Dian and Wes Schimmelpfenning.

Weirdly clad members of the Squaw Valley Volunteer Fire Department held their annual Halloween Costume Ball at Squaw Valley Saturday evening. More than 150 guests attended and danced to the music of the Sky Blues, a musical group from Berkeley.

Prizes were awarded for best costumes and many door prizes were also given. Fire Chief Bob Butler and Bill Briner, fifth district supervisor, shared master of ceremonies duties. All proceeds go to support of the department, which is entirely volunteer. Judges for the costumes were Bucky Whittier, Pam Gillette and Mike Gregor.

Kings Beach Halloween Church Party

Spooks came out for game last Sunday evening as some 45 youngsters of the Kings Beach United Methodist Church Sunday School held a party in the church Fireside Room.

Costumed celebrants bobbed for apples, tried to bite into donuts on strings and participated in various other traditional Halloween games and contests.

Mrs. Marguerite Ashton, chairman of the commission on education said hot chocolate, cupcakes and cookies were served to end the evening.

BELL OF THE BALL – Mary and Ed Spolin

High School Song Fest By Chorus

Tahoe–Truckee High School Chorus is holding a "Song Fest" Nov. 8 at the high school gymnasium. Purpose of the event is to raise funds for blazers for members of the chorus.

The event will be held at 8 p.m. Tickets are $1.00 for adults, 50 cents for students with student body cards and children under 12 are free. Tickets may be secured at the door or from chorus members.

Orientation At Hospital

Fifteen members of Tahoe Forest Hospital Auxiliary have completed an orientation course in emergency room procedures and techniques. They will start working as volunteers to help nurses and aides about the middle of November.

Mrs. Adele De Ryk, hospital director of volunteers, said the program enables volunteers to constructively assist hospital personnel during any rush of emergencies, such as ski slope injuries or highway accidents involving a number of people at one time.

While volunteers do not give nursing care, they learned to assist in the cast room, how to adjust crutches, how to handle one end of a stretcher, how to process to paper work on admitting emergency patients and various other miscellaneous proceedures. An important area which volunteers will handle is patient "emotional" care.

THOSE WHO KNOW ALAN CRANSTON...

PIERRE SALINGER
Former Press Secretary to President Kennedy . . .

On May 26, 1964, Pierre Salinger told the Associated Press that "the fact remains that by Mr. Alan Cranston's own admission, his inheritance tax appraisers [while Cranston was serving as California State Controller] are substantially kicking back to finance his bid for the Senate. The matter amounts to a major scandal."

HUGH M. BURNS
President Pro Tem, California State Senate . . .

On October 22, 1968, veteran Democrat state legislator of 31 years, Hugh M. Burns, told reporters that Alan Cranston's statements supporting the grape boycott "raised serious doubts as to Mr. Cranston's competency to serve as United States Senator." Said Burns: "This is undoubtedly the first time in American political history that a candidate for the U. S. Senate has ever publicly asked consumers not to buy the products of his state. This alone probably should be enough for Californians to soundly reject him at the polls November 5."

HOUSTON FLOURNOY
California State Controller . . .

On September 5, 1968, Controller Houston Flournoy issued a report to Californians. Highlighted was the fact that 25 appraisers, most of them appointees of Democrat Controller Alan Cranston and since replaced by Flournoy, failed to account for their expenses. According to a San Jose Mercury-News Sacramento Bureau article which reviewed the report, a tabulation of some 154 appraisers who did file income reports during Cranston's term as controller, showed that each averaged $20,654 during 1967. After Flournoy took office he initiated a program of qualification tests for inheritance tax appraisers. Cranston had never used such tests. The results were that of those appraisers who had served under Cranston who took the test, 48 failed and 11 refused to take the test and resigned. Only 51 passed.

JESSE M. UNRUH
California State Assembly Speaker . . .

On May 14, 1964, the Associated Press and the United Press International reported that Democrat State Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh stepped into the legislative controversy over the appraisers who were appointed by State Controller Alan Cranston. Unruh said: "Inheritance tax appraisers are one of the most corrupting influences in California politics today." The following week Unruh called on Cranston to answer the charge of a former state inheritance tax appraiser that the controller sold the jobs for $5,000 campaign contributions. The Associated Press reported that Unruh offered to open his own campaign financial records and challenged Cranston to debate the sources of his political funds.

NEGRO PUBLIC OFFICIALS
May, 1964 . . .

In a joint press release reported by the United Press International in May of 1964, four Negro public officials charged that Alan Cranston pretended to favor the civil rights program while taking the opposite position in the operation of his office as California State Controller. Making the accusation, according to United Press International, were the Hon. Gilbert Lindsay and Billy G. Mills, Los Angeles City Councilmen, and the Hon. F. Douglas Ferrell and Mervyn M. Dymally, Los Angeles Assemblymen. They said: "Cranston does not visibly have one member of any minority group on his Sacramento capitol staff while other state office holders do."

OAKLAND TRIBUNE EDITORIAL
October 17, 1968 . . .

Alan Cranston's record as a public official does not inspire confidence. As State Controller during the eight years of the Brown administration, he was a party to the excessive spending and fiscal irresponsibility that brought California to the brink of bankruptcy.

UNIQUE CEREMONY – An unusual ribbon–cutting ceremony was performed last Friday at the South Tahoe Airport as a Holiday Airlines Electra turboprop broke a streamer across the newly–improved main runway marking the completion of the $1.3 million project. Some 300 officials and residents of South Lake Tahoe and El Dorado County, representatives of the Stateline casinos, Federal Aviation Administration, Economic Development Administration and the California Aeronautics Division were at the airport for the official ceremony. U. S. Sen. Harold T. (Bizz) Johnson, D–Calif., was scheduled to attend but due to business in Washington D. C., he was detained. However, he sent a telegram to the Tahoe Daily Tribune and Mark Smith, airport manager, expressing he regrets and extending congratulations on the completion of the project.

Duck Soup On Your '68 Menu Yet? . .

Ducks and "honkers" were the center of attention last weekend as the 1968 season for both opened Saturday in Nevada.

Over a quarter–million ducks and 2,000 geese flocked to the Lahontan Valley area, and along with them came the annual migration of hunters.

The area around Stillwater is holding most ducks' attention right now, with 110,000 estimated and 80,000 in "the pasture."

The duck population is 46 per cent greater than last year but it all depends on feed conditions on the length of time the web–footed characters stay.

Duck season ends January 12.

About 14,000 ducks and geese were bagged officially last year at the "the pasture", leased and controlled by the Greenhead Club, but open to the public for a small fee.

Airport Parking OK Received By Supervisors

PLACERVILLE – The board of supervisors has filed a letter from the California Aeronautics division showing approval for enlarging the parking apron at the Lake Tahoe airport in the 1969–'70 fiscal year.

With this notice in advance, it is indicated the project will be considered by the board in its upcoming budget next spring.

The letter said the project will cost $10,764 with Federal Aviation Administration approval and $23,400 without FAA approval. Airport Manager Mark Smith said the county will bear 25 per cent of the cost if the project is approved by the FAA.

A spokesman for the board of supervisors office said how the balance will be paid is not determined.

Included in the same letter was an estimate on a taxiway improvement at the Placerville airport which will cost $23,455 with FAA approval and $50,989 without that approval.

The board also established a new polling place for Precinct No. 17 in South Lake Tahoe. It will be at the James R. Doyle residence at 1372 Meadow Crest Drive.

When the board considered bids for $83,877 in equipment, Supervisor Jerry Martin noted there was no South Lake Tahoe representation among the bidders. He was assured by David Lyons, county purchasing agent, that bid calls were sent to dealers in the area but none filed proposals.

The county purchased $47,903 in equipment from Stancil Motors, $15,369 from Patterson Motors, $12,061 from Ken Collins, and $8,543 from International Harvester; rejected all bids for two dump trucks pending a review of specifications; and held up paying $2,614 for two dump truck bodies until bids for cab and chassis are firm.

In other business the board continued for one week the results of bid openings for improvements in Glenridge Park Unit No. 2 in which Robert C. Gebhardt of Tahoe City ($59,743.50) is the apparent low bidder.

Area Cancer Patients Reminded Of Services

AUBURN – Tri–County (El Dorado, Nevada and Placer) Branch of the American Cancer Society reminds that these services are available to area cancer patients:

Dressings, made by the Order of Eastern Star, are provided free of charge in types and amounts specified by the attending physician of the cancer patient. They are delivered to the patient's home at no cost and can be ordered through the branch office in Auburn.

Sickroom equipment available on a loan basis such as wheelchairs, hospital beds, commodes, walkers and colostomy supplies can be supplied. Speech therapy for cancer patients can be arranged through existing facilities by contacting the Auburn office.

Teichert Gets 89 Project

A. Teichert & Sons Inc. of Sacramento bid low at $11,011 Wednesday on a State Division of Highways drainage improvement project in South Lake Tahoe on Highway 89 north of Mays Junction. There were four firms bidding on the project.

Nevada Realtors In Support Of Question 2

RENO — Nevada Association of Realtors has announced its full support of Question No. 2 on the November ballot.

This is the question which would change the state Constitution to increase the limit on Nevada's bonded debt limit from one to three per cent of assessed valuation, thus permitting the state to borrow more money for construction of needed public buildings.

D. E. (Ted) Mattson of Reno, new president of the realtors group, noted the current limit was inserted into the constitution back in 1916 when Nevada only had 81,000 residents.

"Bond issues are the only sound method of providing for orderly public construction and if we are going to keep pace with Nevada's anticipated growth, voter approval of Question No. 2 is essential," said Mattson.

The motion to support the constitutional change was made at the association's recent meeting in Las Vegas by M. E. (Ted) McCuistion of Las Vegas. McCuistion is a veteran of 16 years in the Legislature, serving from 1938 to 1954 as a Democratic assemblyman from Elko county.

College Entrance Test Scheduled

PLACERVILLE — The American College Test will be administered Dec. 14 at 8 a.m. in the library of the American River College, Placerville Campus at the El Dorado County Fairgrounds.

Registration for the test ends on Nov. 11. Registration forms are available at the college or from high school counselors. The test is required for admittance to American River College, most other junior colleges and many state colleges.

What should you do when you're walking, half way across the street, and the signal suddenly says, "Don't Walk?"

"You should keep walking," Capt. W.T. Kramer of the Placerville office of the California Highway Patrol said.

"Some people panic when they're out there in traffic and they suddenly see 'Wait' or 'Don't Walk' in front of them.

Route 89 Study Authorized

California Highway Commission has authorized the Division of Highways to study alternates to the present routing of future Route 89 Freeway in the South Lake Tahoe area.

When constructed, the freeway will connect future Freeway 50 between a point east of Tahoe Valley and existing Highway 89 at a location near Tallac Creek. The distance between the two points is approximately 5.8 miles.

South Lake Tahoe incorporated after the highway alignment had been acted on by the commission.

The approved alignment was endorsed in 1962 by the El Dorado County Board of Supervisors, according to the State Department of Public Works. At that time it conformed with the "Lake Tahoe 1980 – Regional Plan" prepared by the Tahoe regional planning commissions of Nevada and California.

Recently the supervisors, the California Tahoe Regional Planning Agency and the City of South Lake Tahoe requested that the commission re–examine the proposed route because of changes in local planning.

Higher Parcel Post Rates Now In Effect

Local postmasters, Bill Brown, South Lake Tahoe, and george Smith, Zephyr Cove, remind postal customers that higher parcel post and catalog rates went into effect Saturday.

The rate increase wil average ounts for more than 80 per cent of all parcel post, the postmasters pointed out.

There will be a 15–cent hike on most parcels now charged between $1.10 and $4, and a 20–cent increase on parcels now charged over $4.

Higher rates for the delivery of packages and catalogs are required to bring revenue from this type of mail within four per cent of operating costs as required by law, the postmasters explained.

Additional revenue is needed from parcel post and catalogs to off–set higher costs resulting from pay increases approved last year for postal employees, they said.

Higher rates were approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission in July.

Under the new rates the minimum charge for parcels destined outside the local delivery area will be raised from 50 to 60 cents.

Almost all parcels charged up to $1.10 under present rates will go up 10 cents. This ac–

EGG–TAKING STATION – California Fish and Game personnel make ready to strip eggs from Kokanee Salmon in Taylor Creek. Cages will be used for sorting males and females.
—Photos courtesy U. S. Forest Service

FISH FENCE – Randy Welch of California Fish and Game Department adjusts barriers across Taylor Creek. Salmon are regulated so that overcrowding will not cause destruction of eggs in streambed.

Rangers Assist Kokanee Harvest

The preparations being made by the California Fish and Game Department to ensure that none of the eggs of this year's Kokanee Salmon spawning go to waste was explained to participants at last Saturday's Forest Service guided tour along Taylor Creek.

Tens of thousands of the red fish come up to lay their eggs each fall, but Taylor Creek is only a mile and a half long and does not have space - for all the Kokanee who want to make nests in the gravel. A barrier is set up to limit the number of fish traveling further upstream and to help collect excess fish in one spot for the fish and game egg–taking operation.

Submerged cages are used to sort out the males and females about ready to spawn. When approximately 200 pairs have been collected, a fast–moving team of fish and game specialists goes into action.

Eggs are stripped from the females, fertilized with "milt" from the males, and then rushed in special containers to various hatcheries. Last year's egg–taking netted about 2.5 million eggs. The small–fry hatched from these eggs are brought back and released at Lake Tahoe.

Cooperation between the U.S. Forest Service and the California Department of Fish and Game to keep the stream in good condition is a part of the story being told by forest service naturalists during Saturday morning walks scheduled this week on Oct. 26, and the following week on Nov. 2.

Walks begin at the Lake Tahoe Visitor Center near Taylor Creek on Highway 89. A visit to the forest service stream profile chamber is part of the tour. The talk starts at 10 a.m. and is the only one given. There is no charge.

Rate Hike Opposed

AUBURN – Southwest Gas Corporation's plans to increase its rates in the Lake Tahoe area has met vigorous opposition from the Placer County Board of Supervisors.

Supervisor William S. Briner pointed out the service presently is "woefully inadequate," and the board "would be derelict if it did not protest the rate increases and thus the transfer of this obligation to hapless public by the utility."

Highway Budget Will O.K. 4.1-Mile Freeway

California Highway Commission's budget for fiscal year 1969 will result in a freeway Highway 50 from Sacramento to Riverton.

John Gianotti, Stateline, president of the National Highway 50 Federation, Wednesday said he is pleased that the final link – 4.1 miles generally between Bass Lake Road and Shingle Springs – in the freeway will be completed.

Gianotti attributed funding for the section to efforts of the California Highway 50 Association, South Lake Tahoe individuals and the national federation.

Two trips were made this year to appear before the highway commission to press for completion of the four–mile link, Gianotti said.

Funding of the project "proves that . . . going down and appearing before the highway commission with a sophisticated program . . . pays off," Gianotti said.

The commission estimates cost of the project at $2.6 million and costs of acquiring rights of way at $1.6 million.

Funds were also allocated to Placer County for the reconstruction and widening of about eight miles of Highway 65 between Lincoln and the Andora underpass in Roseville, at an estimated cost of $1.5 million, and to place additional base and surfacing to reinforce about 4.7 miles of Highway 89 from 0.2 miles south of Squaw Valley

Concert Pleased The Audience

With a somber face, quick fingers and powerful bowing, young Kyung Wha Chung Thursday captivated her audience during the premiere concert presented by the Community Concert Association.

Playing with what could only be termed classical soul, the frail violinist put her entire being into the performance.

With her face taking on a somber expression of concentration, and using her body to emphasize strong moments in the music, she would burst into a wide grin at the conclusion of each work.

Working in perfect balance with her accompanist, Cary Lewis, she played with crisp tones and powerful thrusts of bowing throughout the evening.

To herald the beginning of her first national concert tour this season, Kyung Wha Chung captured first prize in the Leventritt Competition, America's major league violin contest. She also has been engaged as a soloist by the New York, Philharmonic and Pittsburg Symphonies.

The next concert presented by the Community Concert Association will be on Nov. 4. Featured will be Christopher Parkening, a classical guitarist.

If the first concert is an indication, the second one will be a huge success.

Works by Stravinsky, Beethoven, Debussy, and Brahms, among others, were featured in her program.

Nevada Fire Season Ends

PLACERVILLE – Irwin E. Bosworth, Eldorado National Forest supervisor, states that storms of the past weekend have given sufficient amounts of precipitation to rescind the fire closure restrictions that were placed in effect May 15.

In removing these restrictions, campfire permits are no longer required and smoking rules are no longer in force, he reported.

Bosworth reminds persons that written permits are required for all burning, either in open piles or incinerators until Dec. 1.

The 1968 fire season, although more severe than normal, burned a total of 16 acres, which is well below the five year average of 48 acres, Bosworth noted. Man–caused fires totaled 62, compared with the five–year average of 50. Major cause of fires were careless smokers and improperly extinguished campfires. Lightning caused fire incidents were low with 23 fires this

Ask 'The Answer Man' On Social Security

This is one in a series of questions and answers on social security. They are typical of questions answered every day by social security representatives.

If you have a question about social security, send it to Arthur A. Johnson, Jr., District Manager, Social Security Administration, Reno, Nev. 89502.

Your answer will appear in a future column.

Q: I recently lost my social security card. How do I replace it?

A: Get an application form from your nearest social security office or representative or from any post office. Fill out this form and send to the social security office. It will be checked with the central accounting office to be sure you get the same number on your replaced card as was originally issued to you. The new card will be mailed to you within a short time.

Q: I will be 65 in Dec. 1968 and I intend to continue working, but I want to enroll for Medicare. How do I go about it?

A: You have a seven month open season extending three months before the month of age 65 and three months past the month of attainment of 65. If you want your medical insurance coverage to begin with the month of attainment of 65, it is necessary that you enroll sometime in the three months preceding (in your case, September, October or November of this year). If you do not enroll until December, your coverage will not begin until January; and coverage will be delayed if you do not enroll until one of the later months, that is, January, February or March. If you are employed or have been employed under social security, you will file an application just as though you were filing for monthly payments. However, nothing will be paid to you while you are still working and earning over the allowable amount.

Q: How much can I earn and still receive social security payments?

A: If you are receiving benefits and are under age 72, you may earn up to $1680 in a year without losing any social security payments due you. Even though you do earn over $1680 in a year, you may receive a social security benefit in any month in which you do not earn over $140. If your earnings are between $1,680 and $2,880, for every $2 you earn between $1,680 and $2,880, $1 of benefit would be withheld from your social security payment.

Beginnng with the month when you attain age 72, you may earn as much as you wish and not lose any social security payments.

Nevada Highway Plan Completed

CARSON CITY — A comprehensive highway safety plan for Nevada has been completed but legislative action will be needed to carry our many of its positive recommendations.

The extensive report was presented to state officials earlier this week at Gov. Paul Laxalt's Conference on Highway Safety in Reno. Prepared by the Safety Management Institute of Washington, its object was to determine what Nevada must do to comply with terms of the Highway Safety Act of 1966.

Each of the states must conform with 16 safety standards designated to reduce the accident and fatality toll on the nation's highways.

Nevada's highway safety program, under way since August, 1967, has progressed considerably, the report noted, but legislative action will be needed to strengthen federal safety requirements ranging from motor vehicle inspection and registration to motorcycle safety, driver education and alcohol in relation to highway safety.

The report was explained in depth by Russel Brown of Washington, D. C., president of the safety Institute to more than 165 western Nevadans meeting in the Pioneer Auditorium to explore ways of making Nevada's highways safer avenues of travel. A similar program was conducted in Las Vegas today.

The Institute's recommendations were turned over to James C. Bailey, director of Nevada's Motor Vehicle Department, the agency spearheading the safety program in Nevada.

Shortly thereafter, Russell McDonald, legislative counsel, assured those present many of the recommendations contained in the report would be presented to lawmakers as a "safety package" when the 1969 legislature convenes next year.

"We will have legislation ready," McDonald said, "to insure Nevada's compliance with terms of the Federal Safety Act."

McDonald complimented the Nevada Motor Vehicle Department for initiating the study, remarking that "Nevada is one of the first states to initiate a study of this magnitude."

New District Not Yet A Reality

MINDEN – The proposed Lakeside sewer district is not yet a reality.

Monday before a semi–packed house at the Douglas County courthouse, the county commissioners delayed action on the formation of the district pending further study.

At the outset of the meeting, Robert Pruett, chairman of the county board, said the commissioners did not want to rush into any hasty action. "Time must be given to careful deliberation of the candidates for the proposed board. We want to fill the positions with men who will do the best job for all interests concerned," he said.

The commissioners received 16 names of citizens in the area who had either expressed a desire or had been nominated by other interested citizens to fill the five positions on the board of directors of the proposed district.

Another reason given for the formation delay was that further study is needed as to the means of financing projects in the district and to the jurisdiction the proposed district will have, according to Pruett.

Pruett said some answers will be forthcoming from a meeting to be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Harvey's Chase–Manhattan room, Stateline.

The meeting's intended purpose, according to organizers, is to study building permit regulations and irregularities. Invited to the meeting are the joint board of the Round Hill and Douglas County sewer districts, Nevada State board of Health, Douglas County Commissionsers, Douglas County Building Inspector and representative from the governor's office.

Deadline Nears For NROTC Qualifying

SACRAMENTO — Deadline date for making application for Regular NROTC qualifying examination is fast approaching. Applications must be received by the Science Research Associates on or before Nov. 15.

Applicants will participate in a nationwide competitive examination Dec. 14, the only date on which the examination will be given, as the first step toward a college education and a regular commission in the naval service.

All tuition, fees, and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives a subsistence allowance of $50 a month for not more than four years.

During each summer between his college years, a midshipman participates in interesting at–sea training periods.

High school seniors and graduates who will be entering college in September, 1969, and who will be at least 17 but not 21 years of age by July 1, 1969, may apply for the Navy College Aptitude Test.

Those who make a qualifying score on the Navy College Aptitude Test (NCAT) will be given a medical examination and will complete their applications in January and February of 1969.

Applications for the NCAT are available at local high schools and Navy Recruiting Stations, or from the Chief of Naval Personnel (Pers–B6411), Department of the Navy, Washington, D.C., 20370.

'68 Tax Bills In Increase

PLACERVILLE — County Tax Collector C. A. Steves Jr., said 48,543 tax bills have been mailed to owners of record since March 1.

This is an increase of 2,460 from last year and does not include 4,800 bills on the unsecured roll, he said.

Plant Begins Sewage Pump

A three–year effort by Douglas County to help preserve the purity of Lake Tahoe came to a head Thursday when the Round Hill and Douglas County No. 1 joint sewage treatment plant started pumping effluent into Dagget Creek.

The plant began operation some three months ago and has since been storing effluent in a reservoir.

Jere Williams, project engineer at the plant, said the amount of effluent dumped into the creek will double the stream's flow but not increase its size.

"The effluent we are pumping exceeds all state health requirements," Williams said.

As to use of the creek's water, there will be no further restrictions on the water than are presently in effect," Williams said.

DEATH CARS – Three members of a South Lake Tahoe family were killed Oct. 21 in a two car accident in Petaluma, California. Funeral services were held last Friday. The family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Leete, ages 20 and 18, and their daughter Virginia, 2, died when a small foreign car collided headon with their automobile shortly after the family had visited with Leete's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Leete, at Petaluma. Leete had worked as a parking lot attendant at Harvey's. California highway patrolmen said they did not know the child was in the Leete car until they ripped the vehicle apart to remove the parents, who were dead at the scene. The child died on arrival at Hillcrest Hospital in Petaluma. Kim Anderson, 16, Petaluma, driver of the other car, was treated at the hospital and transferred to Hamilton Air Force base dispensary, Marin County.

New Voters' Handbook Is Available

RENO – For those who have a case of "voter's blues" – – confusion about the candidates and issues in the coming election –– the University of Nevada has a cure.

It is Part II of the 1968 edition of the "Nevada Voter's Handbook" prepared by the University's Bureau of Governmental Research in cooperation with the League of Women Voters.

Designed to stimulate better-informed political participation by Nevada citizens, the handbook contains information useful to voters in deciding how to cast their ballots at the polls.

The handbook gives detailed analysis of the four proposals to amend the state Constitution, as well as a current list of state officers of the political parties, texts of party platforms and information about all of November's candidates.

Copies of the handbook may be obtained from the Bureau of Governmental Research located on the university campus in Reno or from local chapters of the League of Women Voters.

Part I of the handbook covering precinct procedures and registration information was issued earlier.

AIRLINE TOURISTS – Representatives of Holiday Airlines, which will resume daily flights to the Lake Tahoe area in early November, were hosted to a tour of the recreational areas of South Lake Tahoe by the South Tahoe Chamber of Commerce. In addition to viewing the lake, the lake, the group was taken to local ski resort areas and visited the Stateline casinos. According to Henry Kengla, assistant to the president of Holiday Airlines, the airline representatives were brought to the area so they could see what they will be promoting for Lake Tahoe flights. Included in group is Ginger Ashton, Sally Dial, Sylvia Brandon, Maliea Johnson, Sharron Durante, Veronica Gonzales, Lydia Consentino, Randie Zapator, and Rona Iorg, All the girls, except Miss Gonzales and Miss Iorg, are reservations agents in the airline's central office at Oakland. Miss Gonzales and Miss Iorg are stewardess who will serve the Lake Tahoe flights. Also pictured are Bill Thomas, San Jose agent; Darryl Dodd, Burbank agent; Mike Murphy, director of customer services for Holiday; Henry Kengla, assistant to the president of the airline; Dick Musselman, sales representative at the South Lake Tahoe office; and Ned Sandford, president of the South Tahoe Chamber of Commerce. —Tribune Photo

'I've Found My Place' Says Dean Maxene Andrews

"I think I've found my place. I haven't been this happy and fulfilled in many years.

The statement was made by Maxene Andrews who is dean of women and second vice president of Tahoe Paradise College. Miss Andrews, known as one of the Andrews Sisters in the entertainment world, spoke at a dinner meeting of the Lake Tahoe Business and Professional Women Tuesday evening.

"I had begun to resent by job as a singer," Miss Andrews recalled. If you're doing something you like you have nothing but enthusiasm, but, I found that something was missing from my life and I had been looking for an answer when the president of Tahoe Paradise College offered me this position working with young people. "I was hooked," she said.

"When I took this job I said 'I don't know what kind of a dean I'm going to be, but, I'm going to be a swingin' one,'" Miss Andrews reported in the same witty and casual manner that prevailed throughout her entire address.

The Dean, who also teaches drama, speech and music at the college, told the story of the Andrews Sisters struggle to become successful.

She and her two sisters, Patty and LaVerne, started their carerrs when they were between the ages of 11 and 15. Their first big break came after they had been traveling for six years.

The trio was signed to do a radio show and after the first broadcast they were let go. The president of Decca Records heard their show and they were commissioned to do some recordings.

'Anti-Confusion' Meet On Permit Procedure

Wednesday night an anti-confusion meeting was held, according to participants, to discuss procedures for issuance of building permits on Nevada's south shore.

The meeting, held at Harvey's Chase Manhattan Room, included members of the Douglas County Commissioners, Nevada Board of Health, Douglas County Building Department, and the joint board controlling the Round Hill and Douglas County No. 1 sewage treatment plant.

A building permit had been issued for the construction of a new Eagle Thirfty Market on Kingsbury Grade without proper provision for sewage flow, according to a joint board spokesman.

Since the joint board would have to be the final authority for providing sewage treatment, members requested the meeting to set up procedures for permits in order to prevent further confusion, the spokesman said.

"The district must be able to regulate the setting of (sewage treatment) fees for new developments and buildings which they will have to serve," commented Ernest Thran, county clerk.

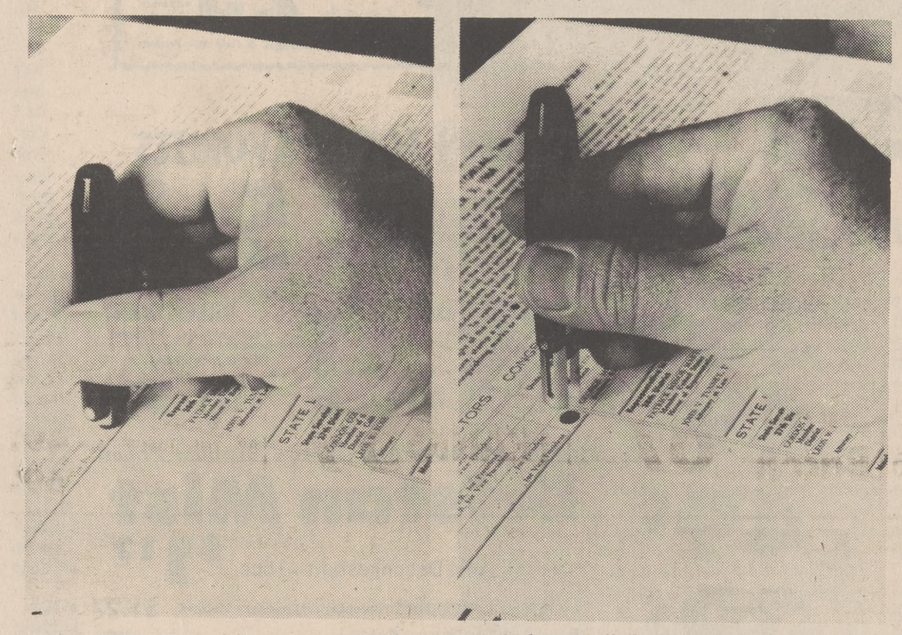
Although the meeting did not set any definite standards, Nevada State Department of Health spokesman, E. Gregory said "we did clear the air and set some tentative measures."

"It would appear that we might possibly set up a board which would review all building permits to make sure that all requirements have been met with."

"As to the Eagle Thirfty problem, before they can receive an occupancy permit from this department they must provide for sewage in some manner, the actual means for this are under discussion now," Gregory said.

Today's Chuckle

If the safety pin had been invented this year, instead of long ago, it would have six moving parts, two transistors and require a service man twice a year.



BALLOT MARKER – Shown above is the marking tool used with the Votronics vote counting system. The only change for voters is indicating their choices on the familiar paper ballot with a small dot instead of the cross or X. At the polls, voters will be issued the marking device, which is self-inking, thereby eliminating the stamp pad. The ink is standard black ink and quick drying. As shown above, the voter holds marker upright and presses down leaving a black dot inside the voting square.

Brownie Troop Takes Field Trip

Brownie Troop No. 69 of Tahoe Valley took their first field trip of the fall season Wednesday as they visited a number of local areas of interest and participated in a tour of the forest.

The girls and their leaders visited Taylor Creek Profile Chamber to watch the Kokanee Salmon spawn afterwhich they were guided on a tour of the local area by Nord Whited, forest ranger and naturalist.

Members of Brownie Troop No. 69 are Tammie Anderson, Cindy Beckham, Shelley Colley, Diane Dayton, Becky Folena, Tammy Gorman, Janet Gray, Jeanette Greer, Karen Hearold, Tracey Hetherton, Jenny Lou Kincaid, Kelly Lawrence, Nanette Mavity, Judy Mehringer, Lisa Pederson, Rosita Quintana, Denise Riddell, Maryann Tooker, Melissa Wilchar, Susan Wilchar, and Theresa Ann Wright.

Their leader is Mrs. Michael B. Walsh and her assistant leaders are Mrs. Chester Folena and Mrs. William B. Hetherton.

The troop meets every Wednesday afternoon from 3-4:30 at the Tahoe Valley Elementary School.

Incline Named In Law Suit

John Walsh, a Concord, California carpenter, has filed a $1 million suit in Washoe District Court for injuries he received while working on a ski lift at Incline Village.

Named as defendants are Crystal Bay, Village Development Companys, Incline Village Inc., and Hall Ski Lift Co., a New York corporation.

Walsh, who said his spinal cord was severed in an accident while working on an Incline Village project, claims Crystal Bay, Village and Incline negligently failed to provide him with a safe place to work and failed to comply with construction safety orders issued by the state of Nevada.

The suit says Walsh was connecting cable to steel towers on Oct. 14, 1966, when he fell 22 feet to the ground. As a result he "has become a paraplegic and suffered extensive and extreme injuries, that will continue for the rest of his life."

A second complaint said Hall Ski Lift provided the towers without adequate safety features, and negligently provided them in such a manner that it was not possible to safely assembly and string cable between them.

Walsh's suit was filed by attorney Jerry Carr Whitehead.

Federal Funds Request Made

Financial pressure to complete the Lake Tahoe Basin sewage exportation project should be taken off residents of the lake, according to William Briner, Placer County Supervisor. He has suggested the federal government "put $80 million on the line" to complete the project.

Briner also took exception to a comment made in Sacramento by U. S. Secretary of the Interior Stewart Udall, who reportedly stated during an interview that he would be in favor of "whipping the horse" to get more done at the lake.

Briner said Udall was apparently referring to lake residents and added that local residents have bonded the districts to the limit in an attempt to "wave the national resources for the world."

COUNTING MACHINE – Voters in El Dorado County will have their paper ballots counted on machines like the one shown above during the presidential election Nov. 5. Called Votronics Vote Counter, the machine tallies all candidates and issues from standard paper ballots through an optical scanning process. It counts each ballot in less than two seconds. The machine provides results on 2-1/2 inch paper tape. In large elections Votronics is fully compatible with all computers for centralized processing of results.

Election Ballots To Be Counted By Computer

Voters in South Lake Tahoe and all of El Dorado County will have their ballots counted during the Nov. 5 general presidential elections on electronic tabulating machines.

This is the first general election in which the machines are being used in this area. However, the system was initiated for the primary election in June. All ballots in the last election and in the November election will be taken to Placerville for counting.

The unique system, called Votronic Vote Counters, counts all candidates and issues from standard election ballots with complete accuracy at a rate of 1,000 per hour.

El Dorado County, like 11 others in California, uses this method to tabulate each individual vote. It is estimated by the manufacturer of the computer-like devices, Cubic Corporation, that Votronic machines will process more than 1,750,000 ballots in California on Nov. 5.

Use of the Votronic Vote Counter requires no change to voter habits. Only difference to voters is marking their choice. With Votronics, a small self-inking marker is used in place of the rubber "X" stamp and ink pad. To mark the ballot, the voter merely sets the tool on the space desired and presses down. A dot is then printed for the candidate or issue.
